Lung Disease Claims JFK Baby

BOSTON (AP)—The baby son of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy died early today from a dreaded lung disease which overpowered his heart. The president stood just steps away when his son's 39-hour fight for life came to an end.

Patrick Bouvier Kennedy died at the Boston Children's Hospital Medical Center at 4:04 a.m. Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen of the baby's death at 4:26 a.m. at a hastily-called conference in the hospital.

Mrs. Kennedy, recuperating at Otis Air Force Base Hospital on Cape Cod from the Caesarean delivery Wednesday, learned of her son's death two hours and 31 minutes later from her Washington obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh.

Mrs. Kennedy was given a mild sedative and slept until the president arrived by helicopter from Boston at 9:30 a. m.

The president spent two hours and 10 minutes with his wife in her special suite at the big Air Force base and planned another visit to her later today.

Private funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow with Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, celebrating the "Mass of the Angels" in his private chapel. The Mass is a special ceremony for baptized babies.

Burial will be in the Kennedy plot in Holyhood Cemetery in nearby Brookline, Mass. It will be the first burial in the plot.

At Otis, Salinger said death was attributed to hyaline membrane disease, a membrane infection in the lungs and feared among premature babies.

Salinger told newsmen of the cause of death while the president was with his wife at the Otis hospital.

The president was only a few feet from the big breathing apparatus that held his son when doctors told him breathing difficulties had stifled the child's heart.

The president spent the night

TOWN HALL MOVE

Novato Officials To Hang Hats At New Location

By THERON A. NEWELL

When Novato city offices close for business today, it will be the last day in their original location at 826 Grant Avenue.

When they open for business Monday morning, it will be in the newly refurbished quarters in civic center plaza at De Long and Sherman avenues.

Painted in rust red with white trim, the main building has much the appearance of an old New England town hall.

The civic center in Novato becomes the newest, one of the most attractive and probably the largest home for a city government in Marin County.

The moving schedule has been arranged by city administrator J. Julien Baget to avoid disruption of city services. No formal dedication ceremonies will be held until later, said Mayor M. E. Silva.

With completion of painting this week, the city's public works department has moved some furniture and equipment into the new quarters.

Tomorrow the desks, chairs and filing cabinets will be moved. Then the office personnel will report for work and arrange the files and their desks so that everyone will be prepared to continue city business on Monday morning.

"It will all be done with compensatory time off for the extra hours worked," Baget said.

One problem yet unsolved is how to move the city's 800-pound safe. "No local moving company feels it can handle it," Baget said.

People who knew the Presbyterian church properties will be surprised at the transformation in converting them to city offices. The city council voted on April 19, 1962, to purchase these properties for $62,500. It then leased the church back to the congregation while a new church was being constructed on Wilson Avenue.

The city had previously acquired the community clubhouse at Machin and De Long avenues under a charter provi-

Novato High School Gets Another Principal

Robert W. Wisgerhof was hired as principal of the Novato High School last night by the Novato Unified School District trustees at a special meeting in the administration building.

He replaces Gerold F. Ellyson, who held the job for just over one month—since July 1.

Wisgerhof took the position at a salary of $13,400 per year, the same as Ellyson was to receive.

Wisgerhaf, 43, was born in Newton, Ia. He attended Central College at Pella, Ia., and Iowa State College at Ames, Ia. He took his M.A. degree from Texas Technical College at Lubbock and his M.S. degree from the Claremont College graduate school in California.

He started his teaching career as coach at Wilton (Iowa) High School, later being principal for three years. Then he moved to Arcadia, Calif., where he was director of high school student activities. Following that he was principal of the high school at Mojave for four years, and then principal for five years of the Balsa Grande High School in Gorden Grove, Orange County. He resigned that position this week.

He and his wife, Lorean, have two daughters, Keri, 13, who will start high school this fall, and Robin, 11, who will start junior high school.

Ellyson, who was hired to replace Robert McKeay as principal, resigned Tuesday to accept a position as assistant superintendent of schools at Fremont, Neb. McKeay is to take over the adult education and work-experience programs at the high school.

Prison Aide Says Letters Photocopied

Capt. Carl Hocker, in charge of the guard force at San Quentin Prison, told the jury in Marin County Superior Court today how he photocopied several letters written by prisoner Antonio Bucaloy, 31, and then allowed them to be smuggled out of the prison.

Hocker said he also kept tabs on passes issued to Bucaloy to go to restricted parts of the prison while guard Robert W. Minor Jr. was on duty.

Minor, 30, of San Francisco, is on trial for conspiracy to commit forgery. He was arrested in September after prison authorities smashed a plan to print counterfeit payroll checks in the prison printing press. The trial opened Monday before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

IN ON SCHEME

Yesterday one of the prisoners in the scheme, Caesar (Frisco Fats) Lewis, 38, now on parole, told how he had gone to Hocker to tell what he knew of the plans, and to make arrangements to pass letters to a guard sergeant to be sent to Hocker before giving them to Minor.

Lewis said he arranged with Minor to give him $300 to smuggle the letters out of the prison so they wouldn't be seen by prison censors.

TWO TESTIFY

Two prison inmates, charged with Minor in September and after pleading guilty, also testified yesterday.

One was Bucaloy, who said he had written the letters to outside contact man Albert W. Martin, but had only copied, word for word, the compositions of the other prisoner, Robert Gillette, 31.

Gillette acknowledged that he knew Martin and had made some initial contacts.

Lewis testified he was not sure Minor actually mailed the letters, but only that he had given them to the guard and that they were later mailed.

New Computation Center Dedicated

STANFORD (AP) — The new Stanford University Computation Center, one of the nation's largest university computer installations, was dedicated today.

The computer is a "fundamental contribution to the intellectual life of the university," said Dr. Richard W. Hamming, Bell Telephone Laboratories scientist.

George E. Forsythe, center director, said about 2,000 students and professors have become computer users on problems ranging from nuclear research to watershed runoff.

Navy Quits Net Depot; Interior Department In

Four U.S. Labs Due —Aerojet Corp. Out

The Navy is getting out of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot, which will become west coast oceanographic headquarters and laboratories for four bureaus of the Department of the Interior.

Further, Aerojet-General Corp. has lost its Navy contract for underwater rocket engine testing in San Francisco Bay, and it is now questionable whether there will be any such testing here.

This news came today from Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

The Navy, it was learned, already has moved much of its equipment from Tiburon to the Concord Naval Supply Depot, and has sold many tank-type buoys to the California State Forestry Service, which will use them for water tanks in remote fire-fighting locations.

Other Navy equipment has been piled at the depot dock and reportedly is to be sold as surplus.

Congressman Clausen disclosed that three more ocean-going vessels, besides the two-man submarine of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife which is already there, will be stationed at the Tiburon depot. Largest of these is a 200-foot seagoing tug.

Two more vessels may be added next year.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife's Pacific research center, which has been quartered in one building of the net depot since late in 1960, will be expanded. It will base its 65-foot converted Army boat, now at Rio Vista, on Tiburon.

The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, which has had one scientist and a secretary at the Tiburon depot on a temporary basis, will place its Pacific headquarters there, along with the 160-foot converted sailing ship Black Douglas, now based at San Diego.

The Bureau of Mines will also place its Pacific coast headquarters at the depot. It has received a 200-foot seagoing tug from the Navy's mothball fleet in Suisun Bay which will be made sea-ready and equipped with scientific instruments for research on underwater coastal mineral deposits, and will operate from Tiburon. This, said Clausen, will be the first time the Bureau of Mines has ever "gone to sea" with its own vessel.

The Geological Survey will also put its Pacific coast headquarters at Tiburon.

"Within two years," said Clausen, "the entire facility is expected to be built up to 200 to 300 people, with an annual payroll around two and one-half million dollars. This will

Huge Crane Falls —Man Is Caught

A 20-ton crane fell on its side today at the Navy Net Depot in Tiburon, injuring a 53-year-old Tiburon maintenance man as he attempted to leap from the crane to safety. (SEE photo, page 4.)

John J. Brunslik of Mar West Road suffered injury to his left foot, which was caught for five to 10 minutes under the cab of the crane. He was taken to Marin General Hospital where his foot was being X-rayed at noon.

Cecil Leighton, in charge of moving of Navy materiel from the net depot to the Concord Naval Supply Depot in connection with Navy abandonment of the Tiburon facility, was working at the same pier with Brunslik.

At 10:30 a.m., Leighton reported, Brunslik was letting a 19-foot whaling boat into the water for a testing operation by the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife's Marine laboratories, located at the depot.

The load was too heavy, and the crane began to tip. Brunslik leaped. His foot caught in the cab.

"I tried to raise the crane with the fork lift I was using," Leighton said, "but it was too heavy. With the assistance of two men for balance on the back of the lift, we were able to spring the corner of the cab and loosen Brunslik's foot."

Firemen were sent to give first aid from the Tiburon Fire Department but, according to Capt. Charles Pruett, Brunslik refused any treatment.

Leighton said that several civilians have been employed by the Navy in moving Navy gear from the depot, and about 25 per cent of the materials have been moved already.

Unexpected Summer Rain Hits County

Typical dry summer weather returned to Marin County today after a surprise shower sprinkled the area late yesterday.

The unexpected summer rain dampened streets, but left only a trace in most sectors.

Tamalpais Valley recorded .03 of an inch and Belvedere .02, the only measurable amounts reported in the county.

A northward current of moist air brought the unseasonable rainfall to Marin County and caused heavy rains and thunderstorms in the Tehachapi Mountains south of Bakersfield and on the eastern slope of the Sierra.

The Point Reyes-Inverness area reported no rainfall, but other communities in the county reported a trace, sprinkles or a drizzle.

Arlene Hits Bermuda— 80-MPH Winds

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—Hurricane Arlene hit the British island of Bermuda with winds of at least 80 miles an hour today, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported.

Arlene's full force hit the craggy Atlantic island just before 11 a.m., the Miami Weather Bureau said.

"Gusts to 80 MPH or higher have already been observed there," the Miami bureau said.

The advisory placed the storm's center just off the southwest shore of the island. It said the hurricane was moving toward the northeast at about 22 miles per hour.

"In view of the relatively small size of the storm and fairly rapid movement, winds will begin to decrease at Bermuda later this afternoon," the weather bureau said.

Weather-seasoned Bermudian residents continued a work-as-usual schedule this morning before the hurricane hit. Military and civilian aircraft were grounded except hurricane hunter planes tracking the storm.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Japanese Mark Nagasaki Bombing

NAGASAKI, Japan (UPI) — About 2,000 persons gathered in a drizzle today to participate in a memorial service on the occasion of the 18th anniversary of the atomic bombing of Nagasaki.

The quiet memorial service was held at the International Cultural Hall while the leftist Japan council against atomic and hydrogen bombs discussed ways to hold a convention.

Participants in the memorial service passed a resolution appealing to the world "not to repeat the horror experienced by the people of Nagasaki."

Jury Rules Dr. Ward Suicide

LONDON (UPI)—A coroner's jury ruled today that Dr. Stephen Ward, the society osteopath who touched off Britain's scandal of the century, killed himself with an overdose of sleeping pills.

Ward, who had medical training and knew how much to take, died of barbiturate poisoning Saturday rather than face sentence on vice charges.

Ward's family arranged private burial services today for the 50-year-old Anglican minister's son and refused flowers for the funeral.

Nicotine Content Tax Is Urged

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Cigarettes should be taxed on the basis of their nicotine content, an officer of the American Cancer Society recommended here yesterday.

Tobacco manufacturers should be required to list the amount of nicotine on a cigarette package, Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond told a news conference.

Hammond said the effect would be similar to taxation of liquor on the basis of alcoholic content. He said the plan would tend to protect smokers since the most harmful cigarettes would bear the highest tax.

Day Steps Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edward Day steps out of political life today after two and one half years as postmaster general.

On his last day on the job there wasn't even a promising rumor afloat as to who will succeed him.

Informed sources said President John F. Kennedy hasn't decided on a successor. Speculation arose that the new postmaster general might be a Negro—first ever to hold a Cabinet post.

When Kennedy took office he first offered the job to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson (D-Ill.) but Dawson turned it down. The president is known to want to put a Negro in his Cabinet before leaving office. He had earmarked Robert C. Weaver, housing administrator, for the Cabinet, but that plan fell through when Congress refused to create a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs.

Day is leaving the $25,000-a-year job for a lucrative practice of law in Washington.

Haiti Rebels To Hills

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Haitian exiles who invaded Haiti reportedly have taken to the hills to wage guerrilla warfare against the government of President Francois Duvalier.

Reports from Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, indicated the drive which exile spokesmen had said the invaders were making across northern Haiti had fizzled or been dispersed by Duvalier's forces.

Quakes In Italy

FORLI, Italy (AP)—Two strong earthquake shocks caused widespread alarm today throughout a tourist-jammed 200-mile triangle of northeast Italy, from Florence to Trieste and north to Bolzano.

Chimneys were knocked down, cornices crashed into the streets, walls of some old houses cracked, but there were no casualties.

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Bess lashed southern Japan with high winds and heavy rain today, and police reported one person dead, 13 injured, 2,200 houses flooded and many more damaged.

All the casualties were reported on the southern islands of Kyushu and Shikoku, where winds up to 115 miles an hour were recorded.

Typhoon Bess was expected to pass near the western tip of the main Japanese island of Honshu tonight and enter the Japan Sea tomorrow heading for South Korea.

Big Shakeup In Vehicles Department

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A major shakeup in the Department of Motor Vehicles was announced today close on the heels of an investigation by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and the firing of two of the department's top investigators.

Robert B. Bradford, administrator of the Highway Transportation Agency, said he is eliminating two of the top jobs in the department's investigations section, and removing several divisions from under its control.

He said these steps should "eliminate administrative weaknesses that . . . allowed unscrupulous employees in the investigations section to take advantage of some motor car dealers."

Mosk's investigation, made with the help of the Los Angeles County district attorney's office, was started on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's orders early this year after the Los Angeles County grand jury reported widespread referral selling and other irregularities in Southern and Northern California.

Both men involved were veteran civil service employees, and Bradford said their jobs will not be filled.

Instead, he said, investigators will be supervised directly from Sacramento from now on.

In addition, he said the divisions of dealer licensing, case review and dealer hearing, and record review are being removed from the investigations section to other administrative areas.

And he said the quality of auditors and investigators will be improved through stepped up professional training.

Bradford commented that "over the years . . . too much power was concentrated in the hands of too few individuals . . . ."

He said he and Bright are confident that the changes will "create new checks and balances to guarantee the integrity of both investigation and disciplinary procedures."

He said there has been no evidence of similar problems in any other section of the department, but added that there may be more personnel actions.

'Great Train Robbery' Huge Reward Offered

LONDON (UPI) — Confirmed bank losses in the biggest robbery of all time soared today toward eight million dollars.

Insurance companies hit by the loss offered a record reward of more $500,000 for capture of the mail train robbers and recovery of the loot.

Officials said the known loss thus far in yesterday's "great train robbery" now totaled $7,005,600—with the ultimate figure expected to run as high as 8.4 million dollars.

As the reward money piled up in hopes of inducing a "squealer" to offer information about the gang who staged the smoothly-efficient ambush of the Glasgow - to - London train, Scotland Yard and post-office security men scoured the countryside without a single clue.

The bandits appeared to have vanished with their huge haul of cash and gems which they took from 120 mail sacks and carted away in trucks and a car in yesterday's pre-dawn darkness.

There was a possibility the loot and at least some of the robbers already were out of the country. The London Evening News quoted an unidentified man as saying he saw an airplane land and take off again in a hurry at a disused airfield near the site of the train robbery and at about the time it took place yesterday.

As police explored this latest mystery phase of the robbery, staged by bandits whose faces were masked by silk stockings and who were armed with crowbars, blackjacks and guns, the insurance brokers offered $560,000 in reward money.

Individual banks—which had shipments of cash in varying amounts en route to the Bank of England in London—added their own rewards to the insurance brokers' offer. Officials said they felt the amount of the reward money almost certainly would tempt some member of the underworld to furnish some leads to the robber gang, whose number originally was estimated at from 20 to 30 but which may have been smaller.

Federal Charges For Rights Group

MACON, Ga. (UPI) — Nine members of a bi-racial civil rights movement were indicted today by a federal grand jury.

Three members of the group were indicted on charges of conspiring to injure the business of a white supermarket operator who sold out after a boycott of his store.

Six others were charged with perjury.

The indictments, announced in Washington by Attorney General Robert Kennedy, named Dr. William G. Anderson, president of the Albany Movement, Robert William Colbert and Luther Woodall Jr.

Five Negroes and one white associated with the movement were indicted on perjury.

Stocks, Cash, Gems Stolen With Safe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police said Barbara Brazier Barnato Thornhill, former wife of the son of a discoverer of the Kimberly diamond empire, reported yesterday thieves had made off with a safe containing $22,420 in cash, gems and stock.

Patrolman Joseph Mangan said Mrs. Thornhill listed the securities as worth $20,320 and the diamond $1,000.

Wall Street Tensions Abated Following Final SEC Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Tensions abated in Wall Street today following the final report in the first exhaustive investigation of securities market practices since the 1930s.

But brokers, mutual fund managers and others in the securities business recognized there probably will be tighter supervision from Washington, and some changes in ways of doing things.

Except possibly for the mutual fund segment, the financial community found little unexpected yesterday in the third report on the two-year inquiry by a special staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Sharp criticism was levelled at high pressure tactics used by some salesmen of mutual fund shares, notably part-timers said to have employed highly emotional appeals playing on "fear, pride and patriotism."

The report also questioned sales fee collection patterns in the sale of contractual installment plans, methods of routing brokerage business by some funds and what it deemed potential conflict of interest situations that could favor insiders over shareowners.

The federal investigators added to earlier recommendations for a closer SEC rein on self-regulation of organized securities markets, such as the New York and American Stock Exchanges.

In a letter of transmittal to Congress, SEC Chairman William L. Cary indicated the next step will be a series of meetings with securities industry leaders.

These would seek an accord on additional controls and improvements, especially those within the powers of the SEC, the stock exchanges, mutual fund industry and the National Association of Security Dealers, which oversees the over the counter market for unlisted stocks.

Cary said he had no plans to ask for legislation at this session of Congress, but a couple of proposals would be advanced next year.

A bill embodying recommendations based on the first special staff study report has passed the Senate and awaits House action.

The latest report caused no immediate stir on the stock market, where prices inched higher late in the day.

College Gym Delayed —All Bids Too High

Start of work on a College of Marin physical education complex in Kentfield was delayed last night because all bids exceeded estimates by more than $300,000.

The Marin Junior College District board voted to have the architectural-engineering firm of Falk and Booth analyze the low bid in detail and report in a week or 10 days, then readvertise the work and obtain new bids.

Low bidder was Ralph Larsen and Son of South San Francisco at $1,618,313. The work had been estimated by the architects $1,283,574.

Of 12 firms that took out plans and specifications, only two others, both of San Francisco, submitted bids: Pacific Coast Builders, $1,675,250, and Baldwin, Erickson and Tait, Inc., $1,688,450.

Structural engineer Mark Falk said "I am at a loss to account for the difference between the estimate and the low bid."

Construction had been set to start about Aug. 19.

The work will consist of a gymnasium building, swimming pools, furniture and equipment, temporary turfed play area, permanent turfed play area, game court area, parking area, on-site work.

The Marin junior college district board also:

1. Gave Mrs. Katherine Malcom a 30-day extension until Sept. 30 to move out of her home at 3 Laurel Avenue, Kentfield, on land bought for campus expansion. She said work on her new home is not finished.

2. Directed Edwin Cadogan, chairman of the division of fine arts, to channel his request for a ceramics kiln through the administration and architects. Cadogan said students had raised money for the materials from a pottery sale.

OBITUARIES

Henry Meyer Of Sausalito Succumbs

Henry Meyer, 83, a longtime resident of Sausalito and former owner of the Sausalito Hotel, died yesterday at a local hospital following a short illness.

He was a native of Germany and had lived 60 years in California.

Meyer owned a bar on the San Francisco waterfront for some time before moving to Sausalito. He owned the Sausalito Hotel, where he had tended bar for a time, from about 1923 to 1950 and was also former owner of the building which housed the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. at 673 Bridgeway. He was also a real estate broker.

Meyer was a member and former director of San Rafael Lodge 1108, B.P.O. Elks, and a member of the Bay Area Peace Officers Assn.

According to a friend, Robert Miller of Sausalito, Meyer had been a gunner in the Colombian Navy during a Colombian insurrection.

Meyer, Miller said, was instrumental in seeing that the lower lateral was installed in Sausalito.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, will be conducted by the San Rafael Elks Lodge at 8 p.m. Sunday at the mortuary. Entombment is to be at Mount Tamalpais Mausoleum, San Rafael. It is requested that tributes be contributions to the Marin County Heart Fund.

DEPOT

all be for oceanographic research. Most of the employees will be scientists."

The installation will embrace all 17 of the former Navy buildings at the site, plus the dock. It will include the headquarters offices, biological laboratories, storage of equipment and facilities for repair of equipment.

John Crawford, who will head the Bureau of Mines facility, has already purchased a home in Terra Linda and will move here Sept. 1, the congressman disclosed.

The big installation was on the verge of moving to Tiburon last fall. Secy. of Interior Stuart Udall scheduled a press conference at the net depot at which he was to announce turnover of the facility to his department. But at the last minute, the Navy decided to reserve the depot for use of Aerojet-General in connection with its rocket testing program, and the transfer was canceled. Udall emplaned for Washington without holding the press conference.

Aerojet-General's announcement of plans for underwater rocket engine testing in the bay followed. There was an outcry from Tiburon residents over original plans for a test site off Angel Island, and Aerojet-General recently amended its application to the Army Corps of Engineers to include a site off San Pedro Point, near the Sisters islands. That locating is now awaiting Army Engineers clearance.

In the meantime, however, the Navy failed to get the appropriation with which it planned to finance the Aerojet-General rocket engine testing, Congressman Clausen disclosed.

Aerojet-General now has no contract for underwater tests, although it is trying to get one with either the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Army, or the Air force.

On learning that the Navy would not need the property for Aerojet-General, Secretary Udall renewed the Interior Department application, and transfer to that department has been authorized by E. J. Sheridan, deputy assistant secretary of defense for property and installations, said Congressman Clausen.

If Aerojet-General get another contract for the testing, it will locate its shore facilities on private property, probably in Alameda or Contra Costa County, Clausen said.

There is a possibility, he reported, the project may be moved to Florida—if Aerojet-General gets a contract for it.

James L. Squire, who heads the Pacific Game Fish Research Center of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, called the news "the best I have heard in a long time."

"Now we can make improvements that we have hesitated to make because we were just here on a temporary basis," he said happily.

CITY HALL

sion of the Novato Community Club. It was awarded to the city in a decision handed down by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court on May 22, 1961.

Purchase of the church properties gave the city the entire block bounded by De Long, Sherman and Machin avenues and Blodgett Lane, except for the house of George Morrison at 909 Sherman Avenue.

In December of 1961, the city council started meeting in the community house.

The manse of the church was converted into a police station. This cost approximately $4,000, Baget said. The police department originally had been housed in the Northwestern Pacific Railroad station.

When the Presbyterian Church moved out of the property earlier this year, the city authorized Gordon Phillips, San Rafael architect, to draw plans for converting the 70-year-old church sanctuary and 30-year-old Trevitt Hall into city offices.

Phillips' ideas on the appearance of the civic center can now be seen in the remodeled church. It no longer has the appearance of a church, but that of a town hall of several generations ago.

Lloyd Hunter Construction Co. of Novato was given the contract for the remodeling job at $28,376. Subsequent change orders has raised this to $29,385.

In the portion of the civic center which was the church sanctuary will be the offices for the parks and recreation, building, and planning departments. The corridor offices which connect the main building to the former Trevitt Hall contain the office of the mayor, storage rooms and rest rooms. On the main floor of Trevitt Hall will be offices of the city administrator-clerk, deputy city clerk and finance officer. The ground floor of Trevitt Hall has been given entirely over to the public works department. It has been divided into drafting and blue-print rooms, storage rooms and offices.

City employees at first will "rattle around" in their new quarters. The former city hall in the Novato Bank Building (built by Mayor Silva's father) and annex have a total of 2,500 square feet. The new offices in the civic center have 6,600 square feet, or nearly three times as much.

There are still reminders of the days when the buildings were owned by the Presbyterians.

Hattie and Charlie still stand in front of the police station. They are the Irish yew trees which were planted to commemorate a former pastor and his wife. Baget said the trees, which now block the sidewalk, will be pruned back to shrub size next fall.

Then there is the bell in the bell tower. It was offered to the Presbyterian Church to be moved to the new location, but the offer was rejected, Baget said.

There is a movement on foot to ring the bell before each council meeting.

"The civic center has the appearance of an old New England town hall, so perhaps we should call the people to the council meetings with bell ringing the same as our forefathers did," Baget said.

BABY

in special quarters of the medical center.

Only yesterday afternoon, doctors placed the child in the Hyperbaric chamber, a submarine-like device 31 feet long and eight feet in diameter to aid his lungs to breathe. The apparatus is the only one of its kind in existence.

"The struggle of the baby boy to keep breathing was too much for his heart," Salinger told newsmen in a packed room at the famed children's hospital.

The president's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who himself became a father for the eighth time a few weeks ago, and presidential adviser Davis Powers were with the president when doctors told him the boy was dead.

The president and his wife lost a child in 1956 when Mrs. Kennedy suffered an internal hemorrhage. The child was born dead in August, 1956, when it was delivered several weeks prematurely. Mrs. Kennedy also suffered a miscarriage in 1953.

Doctors awakened the president at 2:10 a.m. when the child's condition worsened. The president's brother received an urgent call two minutes later at his hotel and rushed to the hospital.

Almost immediately after his birth on Wednesday afternoon, five and one-half weeks ahead of schedule, doctors determined the child suffered from a respiratory affliction. Doctors termed the ailment idiopathic respiratory syndrome, a problem that causes difficulty in breathing, particularly in premature children.

A police-escorted ambulance sped the child from the hospital at Otis Air Force Base to the Boston hospital less than five hours after his birth. Teams of specialists gathered quickly to aid the child.

Doctors put the special breathing unit — a three-compartment, submarine-like device—into use yesterday afternoon. The device hopefully would have forced oxygen into the baby's lungs.

Almost immediately the baby showed improvement and optimistic reports continued as late as 11:30 p.m.

After Salinger made the announcement of the baby's death to newsmen jammed into a room at the famed children's hospital, the president returned to his quarters to spend the rest of the night.

The other two Kennedy children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., who will be 3 years old in November, are on Squaw Island at Hyannis Port, the summer White House on Cape Cod.

Salinger said at midmorning yesterday the baby was in serious condition but afternoon reports were less alarming. Last night came word that the child was being fed intravenously.

The midday report sent the president hurrying back from Cape Cod to Boston to be with the baby.

Kennedy conferred with doctors and visited his newborn son four times yesterday.

When the president decided to remain overnight at the hospital instead of going to his suite at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Salinger fended off inquiries as to whether this had any significance by saying simply that the president decided to stay.

House Group Agrees On Tax Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sweeping revision of the capital gains tax was agreed on today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

This cleared the way for the tax writers to complete next week their version of a proposed 10-billion-dollar over-all tax cut bill.

The House is expected to vote on the bill in September.

With most of the details settled, the committee expects to come to grips next week with the question that interests most individual taxpayers — what new rates will be recommended?

These apparently cannot be as low as President Kennedy proposed, since the committee has not provided as much counterbalancing revenue gain as the president suggested.

A rough estimate by a committee spokesman today was that the revisions so far agreed on would increase revenues, directly and indirectly, by about 1 billion dollars during the first year.

The committee still has under consideration some further changes that could raise the estimate.

Kennedy's proposed revenue code revisions would have raised an estimated 3.2 billion dollars to offset against the losses from rate slashes.

The committee still appeared to be aiming at a net tax reduction approaching Kennedy's goal of 10 billion dollars.

In its action on taxation of capital gains—the profit on investments and other assets sold after a specific holding period—the committe recommended setting up a new category that would benefit owners who held the assets as long as two years.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Salt density in the Great Salt Lake is six times greater than ocean water. The lake, located in northern Utah, covers about 1,500 square miles in the Utah desert area. Swimmers have found that the lake's buoyancy and salt density make it impossible to sink.

Natural Marin Beauty
for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.

For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.

We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

Mill Valley Boy, 12, Summers In Europe

A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy who likes to listen to the news as well as carry it is spending his summer in Holland with his Dutch cousins, mainly because he has been close with his earnings.

John Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomson Sr. of 266 Hillside Avenue, has put these activities under his feet so far and is now off on a three-week camping trip:

1. Attended a Netherlands school where the language medium is Dutch.

2. Witnessed a construction project in southern Holland delta region where five "big dikes" are being built for flood control.

3. Camped with children from his school in northern Holland.

4. Visited Ardennes American military cemetery in Belgium.

5. Seen the Manneken Pis and the atom in Brussels.

6. Seen Madurodam, the Dutch parliament, and the Peace Palace in The Hague.

7. Ridden on Amsterdam canals and "been around the Isselmeer (the ex-Zuider Sea)."

John is now on a camping trip to visit Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Yugoslavia, Italy and France.

John, according to his mother, has been very interested in the news and has listened to it on radio since he was five. He also reads the newspaper, she said, and not just the comics. This news interest, plus having an aunt and uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Thys S. Risselada at Hoogvliet, near Amsterdam, stimulated the trip.

The Thomsons told their son that if he could earn his expenses on his Independent-Journal paper route, they would pay his round-trip flight. John saved $140 in less than a year and his parents put in $412, getting half fare since John left in May before he was 12.

Mrs. Thomson said her son so far has shown "no sign of homesickness." However, she added, he has four cousins in his own age range, twins 14, a cousin 13, and one 11.

"I am coming home Sept. 1," he wrote his newspaper distributor, Jack Benjamin. He also told him of his trip so far.

Mrs. Thomson, who said her son will continue his paper route on return, said he will go into seventh grade next month.

Shear Delight: Fresno Girl Is 'Miss Wool'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 22-year-old Fresno State home economics student was crowned Miss Wool of California yesterday.

Platform On Rights Due Democratic Club

A proposed civil rights platform which skirts extensive discussion of action at the local level will go to the board of the Mill Valley Democratic Club next Thursday.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the home of Diane Brockmiller, 41 Summit Avenue.

Last night the issues group finished drawing up the proposed platform in the fifth discussion meeting on the matter, coming out in support of President John F. Kennedy's omnibus civil rights bill, and approving Gov. Edmund G. Brown's recent order for no discrimination in businesses licensed by or dealing with the state.

According to Mrs. Joan Sestak, chairman of the issues group, the question of local action was the most controversial. She said there was doubt in many members' minds whether a partisan group should take a strong stand on a non-partisan issue at the local level.

She said the group took no firm stand on the question of de facto segregation in schools other than to support the principles laid down by the State Board of Education.

On the questions of equal opportunities for members of minority groups in housing and employment, she said the group would propose planks urging support of existing local groups working to find housing and jobs for non-whites in Marin County.

Scout Jamboree Begins

Prowler Escapes When Gun Clicks

A prowler near a San Rafael home almost got shot last night.

Mrs. Doris Ann Rubino of 205 Santa Margarita Drive spotted the prowler shortly after 9 p.m. and ran to get a .22-caliber revolver.

She aimed the revolver at the prowler, but the gun misfired. The prowler, described as wearing a green T-shirt and being between 25 and 35 years old, escaped.

Mrs. Rubino spotted Police Officer David Jones patrolling the neighborhood at 9:18 p.m. and told him her story.

Lost Bikes Auctioned

Bicycles which have been lost or stolen will be auctioned in Mill Valley by the police department at 9 a.m. on Sept. 14, Police Chief Dan Terzich said today. The auction will be at the rear of the city hall.

Two Get Airmen's Medal For Heroism At Hamilton

Lt. Col. Jack L. Krout, 28th Air Division operations plans officer, and M/Sgt. Anthony Martino, emergency equipment instructor and pararescue specialists with the 78th Fighter Wing, last week were given the airmen's medal for heroism by Maj. Gen. C. F. Necrason at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Colonel Krout, of Petaluma, received his medal for voluntarily risking his life in an attempt to save a Shell Oil Co. geologist who had become trapped by rising tides at the base of a 100-foot cliff at Middleton Island Air Force Station, Alaska, on Aug. 19, 1962.

The colonel and a sergeant, who also has been cited for his part in the work, undertook the mission not knowing they would arrive too late to save the man's life.

Sergeant Martino of 664 Cherry Street, Novato, was cited for risking his life to save two fishermen who were trapped in a mountain gorge in Yosemite National Park Sept. 7 and 8 of last year.

When the helicopter which was transporting him to the rescue became inoperative, he decided to continue on foot and horseback. He exposed himself to possible injury and loss of life to get the life lines to the men so they could extricate themselves.

Sergeant Marinto is well known in this area for his lectures on safety and rescue procedures.

GOP Doubts Test Ban 'Security'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are demanding President John F. Kennedy prove his claim that the limited nuclear test ban treaty will increase U.S. security.

The proof will be sought when military and scientific experts are questioned in hearings on the treaty, said Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

In sending the past to the Senate yesterday, Kennedy said the ban on atmospheric, space and underwater blasts "will assure the security of the United States better than continued unlimited testing on both sides."

The United States could make further progress in its weapons program if atmospheric tests were continued, the President said, but "so could the Soviet Union and, indeed, so could other nations."

He continued in the 1,500-word message: "It should be remembered that only one atomic test was required to complete the development of the Hiroshima bomb. Clearly the security of the United States—the security of all mankind—is increased if such tests are prohibited."

Underground tests are not barred and the president has said they will be continued.

Later, talking to reporters, Dirksen said:

"I presume that the president is fully prepared, through necessary witnesses, to fortify his averment that our security will be enhanced, instead of impaired, by the provisions of this treaty."

The treaty was signed in Moscow Monday by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. To take effect it must be approved by two-thirds of the Senate.

In Washington, Moscow and London Thursday, officials of 34 other nations signed the pact. It is expected to pick up more signatures today and Saturday. The State Department says 62 nations have announced they intend to sign and more than 100 are expected to do so eventually.

After Kennedy sent the treaty to the Senate it was referred immediately to Senate Foreign Relations Committee where public hearings will start Monday in the big caucus room of the Old Senate Office Building.

Rusk, Nikita Meet For Relaxed Talk

GAGRA, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev met at this sunny Black Sea resort in an atmosphere of shirt-sleeved informality today for hard-headed talks aimed at easing Cold War tensions and guaranteeing the security of West Berlin.

Rusk arrived at Khrushchev's two-story mansion from a nearby government guest house where he and his party spent the night.

The Soviet premier, in obviously good spirits, introduced Rusk and his party to members of his family and even suggested that they take a swim in his heated pool before getting down to serious discussions.

Some of Khrushchev's grandchildren romped on the lawn in front of the house. They were half naked in the brilliant sunshine and 90 degree temperature.

After a picture-taking session for the Soviet and Western newsmen covering the talks, Khrushchev led Rusk and his group to the veranda of a recreation building near the main house.

Just before they go down to serious discussions, Khrushchev stepped inside and removed his jacket. He came out wearing a loose-fitting, collarless Ukranian shirt.

Rusk removed his jacket also to keep in step with the informal atmosphere.

The secretary of state asked his host if the shirt he was wearing was Georgian, since this resort is located in Soviet Georgia.

"I admire that shirt," he added.

Khrushchev replied that it was Ukrainian.

Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko, who also was present for the talks, suggested that Rusk was trying to find out all about Georgia.

He then turned to Khrushchev and explained that their guest was interested because he himself was born in the state of Georgia.

"Yes," I am trying to find out everything about Georgia," Rusk laughed.

Khrushchev's relaxed mood was evident when he gave orders to let startled newsmen enjoy themselves on his estate.

"Let the correspondents go as they like, go for a stroll or go bathing—or anything they want," he said.

A surprised aide put the bathhouse and other recreation facilities at the disposal of the newsmen. The Americans fanned out on the estate to see as much as possible.

After the morning session of talks, Khrushchev hosted a lunch for the Americans on the porch of the main house.

Sanitary Director Is Sought

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors are still looking for a replacement for R. N. Sundquist, who resigned from the board last week when he moved out of the district.

Secy.-Manager Arthur B. Carpenter told the board last night that no application has been received yet for the vacancy. "We still have five applications left from persons who applied for another vacancy last month," he said, "but we don't know whether they are still interested."

John E. Duckett of Terra Linda was appointed last month to replace Willis Hannawalt, who also moved from the district.

Persons seeking appointment to the board must be registered voters in the district, which includes Terra Linda, Santa Venetia, Lucas Valley, and Marinwood.

Carpenter said applications should be mailed to the district office at 300 Smith Ranch Road. The district board hopes to set a date for a meeting later this month to interview applicants.

Some 'Small' Talk

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Sometimes small talk can lead to a mess of trouble. Scientists from an engineering company who study underwater sounds report there is nothing noisier than a bed of shrimp, and that this kind of talk, if overheard by fishermen, could get the crustaceans into a mess — of salad.

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—The Morrilton City Council has adopted what is thought to be the longest municipal ordinance in Arkansas history. The document, approving issuance of 6.5 million dollars in bonds for expansion of a cotton mill, consists of 120 legal-size typewritten pages.

The average American walks about 65,000 miles during his lifetime, the American Podiatry Association estimates.

New Clemency Hearing Set For Three Men

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Three men scheduled to die Wednesday in the San Quentin Gas Chamber have been granted a new clemency hearing by Acting Gov. Glenn M. Anderson.

Anderson set the hearing for 10 a.m. tomorrow. Gov. Edmund G. Brown — now vacationing in Europe — had refused clemency following a hearing in April.

The trio — Joseph Rosoto, John Vlahovich and Donald Franklin — were convicted of planning the murder of Anaheim bar owner John I. Simpson.

Defense attorneys told Brown at the April hearing that there was "substantial doubt" that the three planned the slaying. Attorneys for both sides agreed that the person who actually shot the victim was probably still a free man, but the prosecution maintained there was no doubt the condemned trio planned the slaying.

John S. McInerny, Brown's clemency secretary, said two state investigators have talked to Reno police about a lie detector test taken by the man the trio says actually pulled the trigger. He would not comment on what they found.

The district attorney who prosecuted the case told Brown the suspected killer had been arrested shortly after the murder, but enough evidence could not be obtained to hold him.

Cavalry Turns 'Navy' In Korea River Patrol

WITH THE 1st CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea (AP) — This front-line cavalry division has developed a "navy" to hunt Communist North Korean patrols trying to infiltrate into United Nations territory.

First Cavalry Division troopers continuously cruise the Imjin River, which the Communists must cross en route south.

The division, which switched from horses to tanks many years ago, got serious about the navy business 10 days ago when Communist activity increased along the American sector of the 151-mile demilitarized zone across Korea.

Patrolling the river is the job of Company A, 8th Engineer Battalion, which boasts of being "closer to the bad guys than any other engineering unit in the whole U. S. Army."

This slogan is the favorite of the company commander, Capt. James Z. Metalios, 29, of Tuckahoe, N. Y.

"Joe Communist is out there and knows we're out there looking for him, says Metalios.

The fleet ranges from small assault boats, which can be paddled into dark coves, to 27-foot power boats that carry six troopers up and down the river at high speed. Riflemen are furnished by the 8th and 9th Cavalry Regiments that have 15 miles of the Imjin in their sectors.

The man in charge of the navy, S/Sgt. Osko Baccus, 33, of Security, Colo., has had little experience with boats.

"Once in a while we got embarrassed by getting stuck on a sandbar," he said, "but now we've got a pretty nice little fleet here."

His first assistant is a former truck driver, Sp. 4 Gilbert Spearman, 28, of Fayetteville, N. C.

One boat crewman, Pfc. Carl Sayers, 18, of Seymour, Conn., said he had never been shot at by Communists but "drew some machine-gun fire from American troops the other night."

Hub Chamber Hits Trucks

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday decided to request the city council to order removal of trucks which are parking in the former Greyhound bus parking lot.

Manager George G. Washburn said, "It is more unsightly now than when the buses were there."

Washburn said the trucks are used by a tree service firm.

Turkish To Burley

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The year 1913 was a bright one for burley tobacco farmers. It was then that the first cigarettes containing a substantial amount of burley were marketed and promoted heavily. Before that time, most cigarettes were made almost entirely of aromatic leaf, the "Turkish" type.

Three Suffer Cuts In Crash At Bridge

Three San Franciscans suffered cuts when the brakes on their car failed and it hit a light pole near the Golden Gate Bridge toll plaza about 7:32 p.m. yesterday.

The car was approaching the plaza from the north, reported California Highway Patrolman James Greer. Helen L. Huntales, 54, the driver, and Louis J. Huntales, 8, were treated at Park Emergency Hospital, San Francisco.

Priest Killed By Knifeman In N.Y. Home

NEW YORK (AP)—The body of a Roman Catholic priest, stabbed twice in the chest, was found in a bedroom closet of his sister's apartment, the victim of an apparent homicide, police said today.

A blood-stained steak knife was found near the kitchen of the Manhattan apartment where the body of the Rev. Francis J. McShane, 42, was found last night by his brother, also a priest.

The knife matched a set found in a station wagon parked nearby which had been stolen last Tuesday from Yonkers, N.Y., police said.

The dead priest's brother, the Rev. Vincent McShane, of Larchmont, N.Y., had gone in search of his brother after being told that he had not appeared at his parish, Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, in the nearby Westchester County community of Elmsford.

The priest's body was found in a sitting position. He was clad in a white, open sport shirt and dark slacks.

Police said there had been no signs of a struggle in the apartment of Miss Margaret McShane, the sister, who was reported on a cruise.

Police also issued a radio alarm for a 1960 sedan and indicated that the priest's clerical street clothes had been stolen and might be worn by the driver of the car.

Police investigated the station wagon, in which the packet of knives was found, after a woman neighbor reported that she saw the priest and another man leave the car about 1:30 a.m. yesterday.

House May Ask Lower India, Pakistan Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House foreign affairs committee said today it was prepared to recommend a curtailment in U.S. foreign aid to India and Pakistan unless they make more progress in settling their bitter dispute over Kashmir.

The committee said it did not presume to pass judgment on the claims of either country, "but it is mindful of the fact that, to the extent that the dispute embitters relations between India and Pakistan, it reduces and may even nullify our assistance to both."

The warning was contained in the committee's formal report on President John F. Kennedy's foreign aid bill. The House group approved an aid authorization totaling slightly under 4.1 billion dollars, a cut of 438 million dollars from what Kennedy asked.

The committee, headed by Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) said it planned to keep the Kashmir matter "under continuous review."

India and Pakistan have quarreled since the turn of the decade over the control of Kashmir, an area in the Himalayas with a population of four million persons and 82,258 square miles of territory.

Some years ago, the United Nations arranged a cease-fire between the two countries and sought to set-up a plebiscite, but controversy continues over the withdrawal of troops and the land remains divided.

A 24-LETTER WORD — Mars Davis, Terra Linda High School junior, watches Dr. Arthur Furst, director of the University of San Francisco's Institute of Chemical Biology, operate a spectrophotofluorometer. Davis and four other Bay Area youths are participating in a training program at the university, designed to fill the need for more technically trained workers in science.

Young Student Doing Research In Biology

The youngest member of a group of five Bay Area high school students doing research work comparable to a college senior at the University of San Francisco this summer is a 15-year-old Terra Linda High School junior.

Mars Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Trist F. Davis of 630 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda, is learning about such research instruments as a spectrophotofluorometer and a gas chromatograph at the university's Institute of Chemical Biology.

As part of the program, the five youths assist researchers in studying the relationship between smoking and lung cancer, cancer cell sizes, the biochemistry of mental diseases, toxicology of boron and chemistry of hydrazine.

The program was set up to encourage outstanding high school students to become technically trained workers in scientific fields. It is financed out of the institute's research budget.

No classroom work is done by the youths. They work in the laboratory alongside graduate students, biologists, chemists and biochemists. Their work is comparable to the level of a college senior, according to Dr. Arthur Furst, director of the institute.

"The boys were chosen on the basis of past achievements in science and personal interviews. They are here because the institute believes that the need for technically trained workers in science is critical and not being met," Furst said.

Davis was chosen for the program when Furst read of his experiments in the production of chlorella pyrenoidosa in the Independent-Journal.

State Hits Hopps With $54,008 Claim On Taxes

Stewart B. Hopps, former Belvedere insurance tycoon who faces a 1½ million dollar federal tax fraud case in New York, was slapped with a $54,008.77 claim by the California franchise tax board in Marin County yesterday.

The certificate, filed in the county recorder's office, outlines Hopps' California tax bill from 1956 through 1959.

It asks $28,211.82 for income tax, $17,825.49 for penalties and $7,971.46 for interest.

The 61-year-old financier was found guilty of mail fraud in Baltimore, Md., early this year and sentenced to 18 months in prison. The conviction is being appealed.

William A. Bugge, the project's director, said a "good beginning" had been made through the gathering of data for a proposed two-mile subway between Front and Gough streets in San Francisco.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Peacock Gap Golf, Country Club Makes The Switch To All Waiters

Have you noticed? Now at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club there are all waiters—no waitresses — in the dining room, except on Tuesdays and for large banquets.

Some other new faces here: Gene Wallace, beverage and bar manager—he's introduced several new drinks — Sandy Sandoval, a new assistant. The new golf pro is young Bob Finn, taking over from well-liked Harry Lawrence who's retiring.

On Aug. 26 when the Marin bar and culinary workers hold their golf tournament, I wonder if Bob Lasky of West End Villa will come up with another hole in one.

Peacock Gap now has a series of chef's special lunches that vary daily for more than a two-weeks stretch without being repeated—everything from corned beef and cabbage to stuffed loin of pork, pot roast and Scottish kippers with scrambled eggs. The entire selection is too lengthy to describe here.

NOW AT COUNTRY CLUB BOWL, San Rafael, playing in the Candlestick Room for dancing: Gene Byrnes and his orchestra, previously at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon for more than 10 years—even when it was the Marvel Mar.

THURSDAY NIGHT champagne cruises from Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco to Tiburon are still drawing the crowds. Seen aboard a recent one: Ed Begley, veteran motion picture star. Marinites can make the same trip in reverse. Take the 6 p.m. boat from Tiburon to the city and return with the funmakers, and dine at a Tiburon place of your choice.

LOOK WHO'S at Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41—Aldo Di-Pasqua, formerly of the San Anselmo Fleur de Lys! He's learning something new in tropical drinks.

ANOTHER CRUISE is planned by the Office in Mill Valley for Sunday, Sept. 1, following a successful trial run a short time ago to Candlestick Park.

This one has no such specific point of disembarkation—just five-hour cruise around the bay, leaving Ondine's dock in Sausalito at noon. Bring your own picnic lunch; there'll be music and dancing aboard. The Office supplies coffee and doughnuts before leaving, two drinks, hors d'oeuvres and snacks on your return. Price $6. Room for 100 people, but make early reservations.

SEEN THIS WEEK at La Petite Auberge — Alfred Roblin, chef and partner in Ondine, in verbal combat with Roger Poli, chef and partner in La Petite, after the former and his wife Betty had disposed of substantial portions prepared by the latter, whose wife Joyce recently presented him with a baby girl.

What they had to say to each other in English didn't mean a thing. It's what passed between them in French that counted. They're good friends and the situation is sometimes reversed. Remember Hope and Crosby, Jack Benny and the late Fred Allen?

Paul Devaux of La Petite and wife Renee leave next week for two months in Europe. Pierre Grigaut may be overworked during that time—but he needs it to remove the pounds he gained on his own vacation.

AND SPEAKING of French cooking, we understand that Claude Berhouet, owner of the Hotel de France on Broadway, San Francisco — a delightful French-Basque place with good food, reasonable prices and some beautiful wall murals—has moved from the city to Eliseo Drive in Greenbrae.

Who knows? He may have in mind more than just living here.

THE STAFF of the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, is keeping track of the gourmet habits of dogs. In the last couple of weeks, the following dishes (in part) have left the restaurant in doggie bags for home: Beef Strofanoff, lamb curry, veal parmigiano, and wild rice and mushrooms.

The inn also reports that the banjo band is starting later on weekends to allow late diners a quieter meal.

KEITH ROCKWELL who operates the Purple Onion and Casa Madrid in San Francisco —also the On Broadway Theater, heads the group opening the Little Fox legitimate theater opening Monday at 535 Pacific Avenue in the city.

The theater is built using parts of the old Fox movie house recently torn down—box office, chandeliers, carriage lanterns, seats and an antique French mirror from the ladies' lounge.

The Smothers Brothers will be featured at the opening. Performances every evening at 8:30, with a 10:45 performance Friday and Saturday evenings.

Sausalito Man, 5 Others Heirs Of Fleishhacker

Peter F. Sloss of 37 Glen Court, Sausalito, is one of six grandchildren and heirs of Mrs. Mortimer Fleishhacker Sr., 88, San Francisco civic leader and patroness who died Monday.

Her will, filed for probate in San Francisco Superior Court yesterday, leaves 15 per cent of her estate to the Mortimer Fleishhacker Foundation and 5 per cent to the San Francisco Foundation.

Her two children, Mortimer Fleishhacker Jr. of San Francisco and Mrs. Eleanor F. Anderson of Atherton, will share their mother's personal effects, including jewelry and the two homes, one in San Francisco and the other in Woodside.

The remainder of the estate will be divided among the grandchildren.

Mosquito Board Asks For Pesticide Report

The Marin Mosquito Abatement District board last night authorized manager G. Paul Jones to send information to the county board of supervisors on what types of pesticides the district is using.

The board adjourned its meeting in memory of the late Walter R. Castro, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Meeting Is Slated On Transit Problems

Transportation problems in Marin will be discussed at a special meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center, sponsored by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the council's metropolitan problems committee, said Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) and Charles Zell of the State Highway Transportation Agency will discuss Marin's possible role in future rapid transit studies of the Bay Area.

Zell will explain the duties of the new Bay Area transportation study commission, and Bagley will discuss the chance of getting the Marin Transit District bill passed in the future. The bill was killed this year by Gov. Edmund G. Brown's pocket veto.

Plans for a meeting on the "future of Marin," tentatively scheduled for October, will also be discussed at the meeting, to be held in the board of supervisors chambers.

Marinite Is Named To Probation Group

John W. Brewer of San Rafael has been appointed to the statewide probation services advisory committee, which advises on improving probation standards for juveniles and adults.

Brewer, who lives at 134 Golden Hinde Boulevard, is chairman of the California Adult Authority. The advisory committee suggests probation improvements to both the adult and youth authorities. It has helped develop standards for juvenile halls and camps for delinquent youths.

Marin Budget Hearings Will Begin On Monday

Public hearings on Marin County's proposed budget of nearly 17 million dollars will begin Monday at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

The board of supervisors will hear statements from the public at the beginning of the hearings and will start a review of departmental budgets at 11 a.m.

Roads and public works budgets will be first on the schedule, to be followed by promotion and development at 1:30 p.m. Other major budgets to be reviewed Monday include welfare at 2:30 p.m. and education at 3:30 p.m.

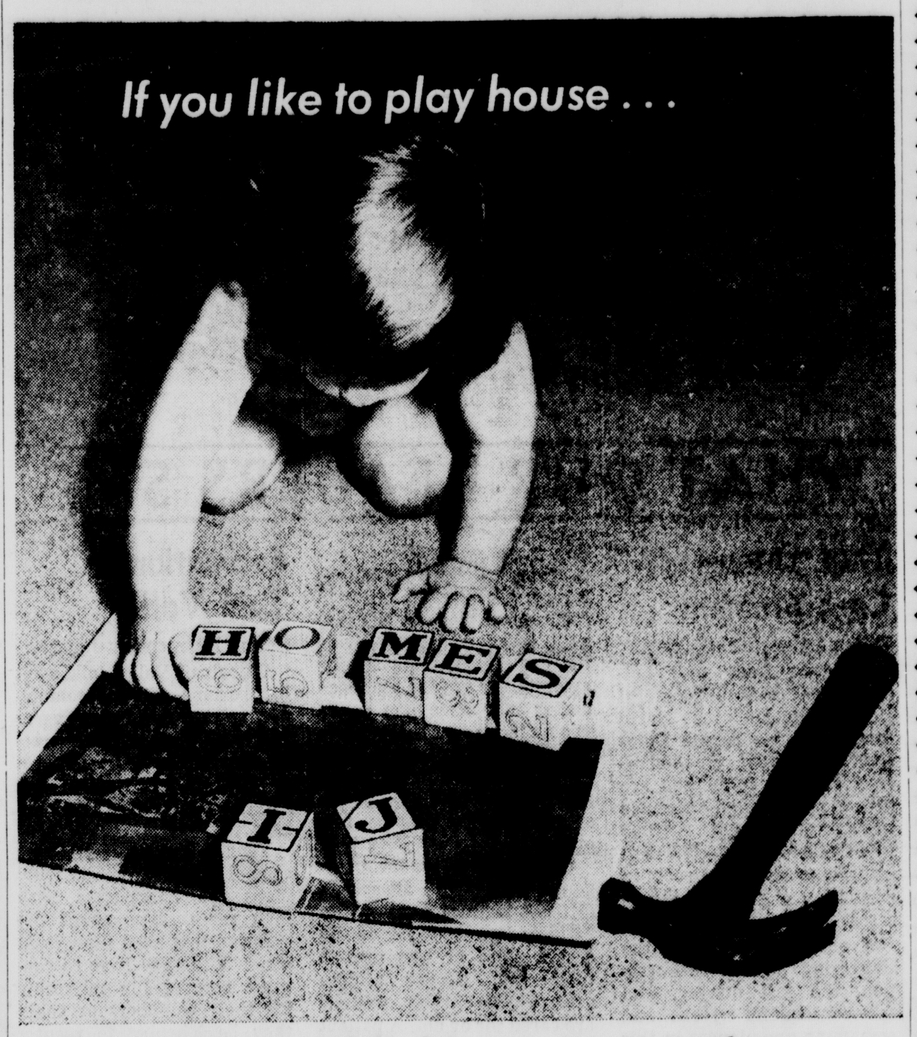

The hearings will continue Wednesday at 9 a.m. with review of employee retirement proposals and a proposed special budget for mental health at 9:30 a.m. Hearings may be concluded Wednesday afternoon.

Car Safety Belts Save Lives In Marin And Everywhere

A Mill Valley mother and her six-year-old son might easily have been killed the other day when their car rolled over three times on Highway 101 at Marin City. It had been traveling at a legal 65 miles an hour when a suddenly flat rear tire threw it out of control.

Both mother and child were fastened firmly by seat belts and neither suffered injury, any more than do similarly belted factory test drivers who sometimes deliberately roll their vehicles. Often in such highway overturns the car occupants are thrown out and crushed by the car lacking belts or shoulder harness.

"Without seat belts there would have been serious or possibly fatal injuries," commented California Highway Patrolman K. W. Beadleston. The patrol travels with belts as do other state employees. It also keeps an eye on tire condition.

Things can't be too different in Sweden where a learned doctor has just published a thesis based on all registered traffic accidents in one province. Seat belts, he found, reduced the risk of injury in car crashes by 50 per cent.

Greatest effectiveness of the belts was in head-on collisions and in accidents where the car did a somersault. Both these mishaps are unfortunately far from rare in Marin County, even on divided Highway 101. Every now and then some vehicle crosses the divider with usually fearful consequences to traffic coming the opposite way, while "head-ons" are quite a feature of weekends and holidays on the twisty Shoreline Highway.

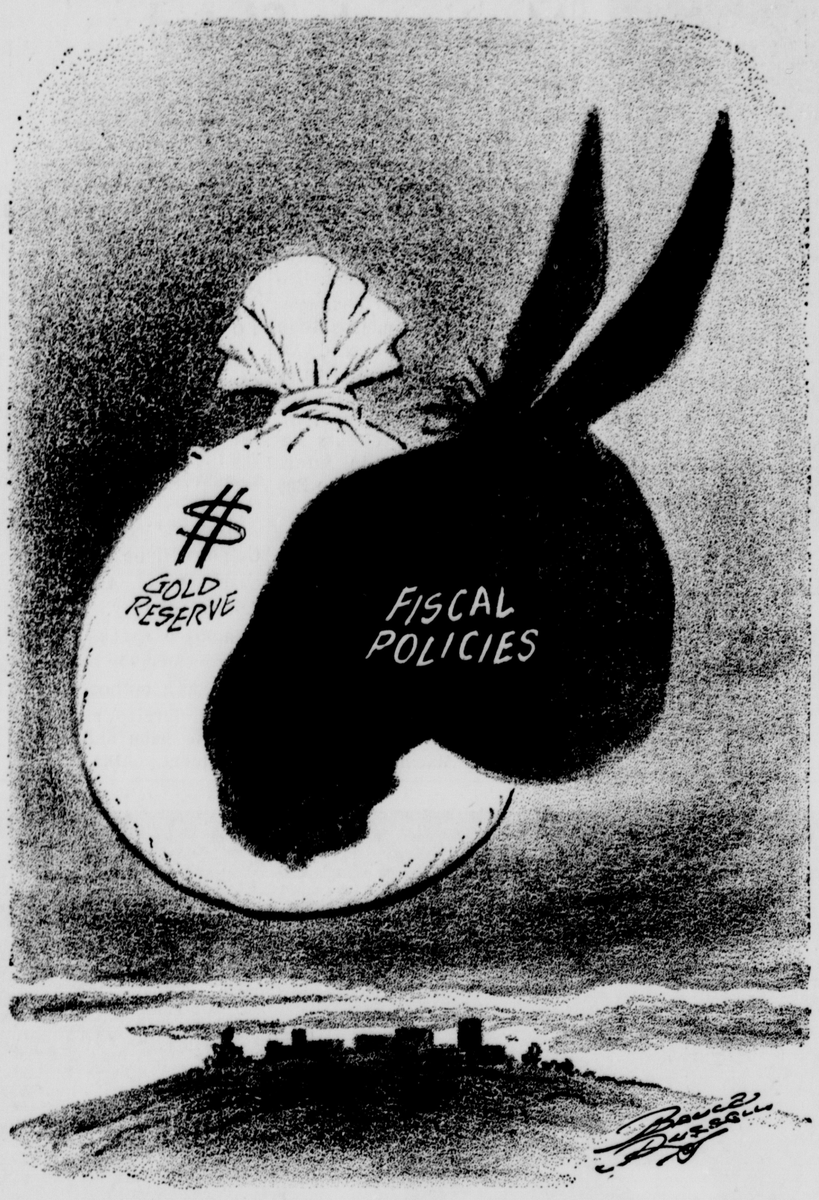

As to cars turning end-over-end, it can happen pretty much any time and to anybody with no warning whatever. A blown-out tire as in the case of the Mill Valley mother is a frequent cause. Tires have grown so generally reliable that many drivers fail to note when treads wear thin or sidewalls get a stone bruise while exploring some unpaved by-road.

Infrequently, and usually with an open car, the seat belt can be a liability. But in the vast majority of cases it's a life-saver.

Always bear in mind that no belt left lying on the seat unused ever saved a life. No matter how short the journey the belt should be buckled—make it a habit.

Long-distance travelers testify that the habit pays off in more than safety for belted-down drivers and passengers alike are thrown around less and have a generally easier day's run.

WHEN THIS IS TOTAL, IT'LL STAY TOTAL

Our Friend, The Wood Rat

We have known our friend the brown Wood Rat for several years and, as rats go, he must be quite elderly. When we first made his acquaintance he was an active, glossy brown creature living under our porch; he still resides there, but his coat is turning gray and he no longer leaps about with a youthful spring.

We have called him "he," but this is sheer assumption on our part. He gives the appearance of being a solitary bachelor. At first we tried to poison him but he didn't poison, so we became friends.

He is quite tame and scurries about on his rat business before our eyes. We suspect he feels safer when we're about in the daytime than he does at night when he might run into a prowling cat or a tough, aggressive Asiatic Rat.

He is a native Marinite and a lover of our green out-of-doors. His ancestors provided food for our Miwok Indians. We'll miss the rustle of the leaves and the inquisitive face when he passes on.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

That Emergency Care Problem

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I gather from your hot-headed editorial "Disgraceful Hospital Racket" that Marin County is now paying about $5,000 per year for emergency care for those who are able to pay through insurance plans or other means. Anyone who has been connected with emergency treatment room in hospitals can see that this is a reasonable figure.

If one bears in mind the staggering alcohol consumption, the fast driving, and the consequent wrecks and screaming ambulances in this county; and if one realizes the size of our population; and lastly the confusion about the payment for emergencies, then $5,000 is not a bad figure.

The responsibility for payment for emergency room treatment is not a simple decision. Everyone who wished to, or is rushed to the hospital emergency room is quite certain that it is the hospital's responsibility, including the nurses and the doctors, to immediately administer care with no thought of payment of fees at this time.

Emergency rooms have regulations about securing information about the patient's name, address, age, insurance coverage, etc. But who takes this down? The doctor who's preparing to suture a cut-up face, or the nurses who are getting out the correct instruments? Then, because there may be other emergencies to be attended to, the information is not obtained.

Afterward the nurse must return to her regular duty in some other place in the hospital. Smaller hospitals divide the emergency room service amongst the staff so that each doctor may have one day a month emergency service. Thus there is a constant shifting of personnel in the emergency room, with divided responsibility for keeping records.

Collection of fees for emergency service will always be difficult because many of the patients are brought in by others more or less against their will. Drunks seldom care whether their wounds are cared for or not. A patient dazed or suffering from concussion will often afterwards say, "I didn't ask to be taken to the hospital, why should I pay?"

He is partly right. It was his friends who insisted on the medical care. But who amongst these good Samaritan friends who brought him to the hospital will take the responsibility of paying?

Thus I believe that in many cases the responsibility is spread so wide between the hospital, the doctor, the nurses, the patients, and the patients' friends, that the organization representing all these people, namely the county government, should take the responsibility and pay.

T. M. HART, M.D.
Ross

(Supervisors cool-headedly put a stop to county payment for non-indigents the day after our "hot-headed" editorial appeared. — EDITOR.)

Recreation In Tam Valley

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tamalpais Valley folk, what has become of your community spirit? Are you going to neglect finding a spot for recreation for the many children coming to this valley, not mentioning those already here?

Your planners were very careful to make room in their plans for apartments with high rents. How about the children that need supervised play? Will they have to continue making life miserable for their neighbors or could they be learning to respect other people's rights at a supervised recreation center?

People Move Around Too Much, Planner And Reporter Agree

COUNTY PLANNER Sidney Shaw and I have found the answer to all of the urban and suburban dilemmas which are about to come tumbling down around our ears.

It is really quite a simple answer: Immobility.

Only the ingeunity and sophistication of a planner could have suggested such a solution. The trouble with everything nowadays, we have concluded, is that people move around too much.

In their search for new places and new diversions, people manage a grand job of creating general disorder. If they were to stay in one spot and not fidget, we might prevent the decline and decay of city and country.

PEOPLE ROAMING from place to place naturally require some kind of transportation. And this is where the trouble starts.

Since automobiles have become as handy as telephones, we have adopted a preference for them over other means of getting around such as boats, trains, planes, bicycles and feet. Cars take up space. Their space demands lead to the building of mighty masses of concrete and asphalt which they might run about on.

Once they get to wherever they are going, they must be neatly parked. Their appetite for gasoline results in further construction—often of an unattractive sort in the form of service stations.

IT IS the inclination of people who become fond of cars to drive long distances to accomplish relatively ordinary tasks. This encourages shopping centers surrounded by wastelands of parking lots.

Obviously, the disintegration of downtown areas in cities can be traced directly to cars. All of their trappings such as parking lots, freeways and gas stations take up space where more interesting structures might exist.

Sidney says it is too bad that shopping centers are sprawled over the land, merely for the convenience of autos, when, instead, we could build neighborhood shops, integrated with homes, and including the fast-disappearing corner grocery store.

If it's true that the suburban housewife today is one of the loneliest persons on earth, it may well be because she either can't drive or the family can't afford a second car. There are miles of houses between her and the nearest store or soda fountain.

RAPID TRANSIT may not be much of a balm to the problem of getting around, either. According to Sidney, who has ridden on the Seattle monorail (post-fair time), the cars are uncomfortable and the trip is slow and bumpy. Besides, it costs 75 cents to travel a mile and a half, and Sidney, being a prudent fellow, says he rode on a day when the city was giving out free rides. He wouldn't have paid the fare otherwise.

Maybe the most disturbing observation he made about the much-touted monorail is that it goes right over acres of parking lots.

Now, if we all stayed home and forgot about transportation, all of the necessary conveniences and amusements would be placed around us. Planners, instead of setting out subdivisions and shopping centers like carrot patches, would put everything right next door.

Of course our inability to move very far, if at all, might bring about a pretty dull and bigoted society. That would be another problem.

Rumor You Can't Buy Happiness Seems A Trifle Exaggerated

By ART BUCHWALD

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. — All our life we've been told you can't buy happiness and we must say we used to believe it. But lately we've changed our mind.

Money can buy happiness and usually does.

Take our friends, the Schmicks They're poor, honest, hard-working people. All they have is each other and they're miserable.

Then take our friends, the Smugs—he's a banker, she inherited money from her father. They live on Park Avenue in the winter and Westhampton in the summer, unless they go abroad. Everything they do costs money, and you won't find two happier people anywhere.

THE SCHMICKS live in a small apartment in Brooklyn in the winter, and they vacation in the same small apartment in Brooklyn in the summer. When they really get desperate, they go to Far Rockaway for a swim.

Once Mr. Schmick said to us, "We may not have all the comforts and pleasures of the rich, but do you think that makes us unhappy? You bet your sweet life it does."

The Smugs, on the other hand, wouldn't have it any other way.

Mr. Smug told us, one night when he had a few drinks too many, "You know, when I was young, I was in love with a poor girl who worked as a secretary. I was poor too and we were going to get married.

"Then I met my wife who was rich, so I decided to marry her. You know something? I bumped into that poor girl a few weeks ago and she had gone all to pieces. It takes money for a woman to keep looking young. I was sure glad I married the rich girl."

THE SMUGS are not happy all the time. Sometimes they fight and then Mrs. Smugs flies off to California to visit friends. But the Schmicks fight too.

Only when they get into a quarrel, Mrs. Schmick has no place to go, so they yell at each other until the police come. Last year the Schmicks were fined $30 for disturbing the peace.

The Smugs entertain a lot of important and influential people who accept their invitations because the Smugs are rich. The Schmicks can only afford to entertain relatives they don't like, who complain afterwards about the food and liquor.

When it comes to children, the Smugs and Schmicks also differ.

Smug told us, "We have two children. We've given them the best of everything. Private schools, riding lessons, tennis lessons, catered parties—we've bought everything for them that money will buy and they're smart, happy, contented children."

Schmick, on the other hand, told us, "We haven't been able to give our children anything but love and devotion—and they hate us."

And so it goes with Smugs and Schmicks—economically, socially, intellectually they are poles apart. But because they live in America, the land of opportunity, the only difference between them is that the Smugs are happy and the Schmicks are not.

BENNETT CERF

Tommy Richardson had a disturbing experience in a small-town church one Sunday. The collection plate was passed, and Richardson put in a bill. It came around a second time and he kicked in again. The third time around he donated all the change he had left. Then, lo, and behold! The ushers formed ranks to come down the aisles for a fourth time! At this point a little old lady seated next to Richardson leaned over and whispered to him, "What do you think they're going to do now? Search us?"

A young doctor, who had recently hung out his shingle in an exclusive suburb, got his first dinner invitation from the richest couple in town. His wife was unable to accompany him, but couldn't wait for his report when he got home.

"I went over with a bang," he enthused, "and Mrs. Jones was the most thoughtful hostess imaginable. Not only did she serve a splendid dinner, but she sat me down between two young mothers who have not had their kids' tonsils out yet."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Bids were sought for construction of a Marin County 300-foot extension of the ferry pier to reach the location of the first concrete bridge pier of the projected Richmond-San Rafael bridge.

Golden Gate Bridge income for the last fiscal year was announced at a record $4,428,813, up $179,000 from the previous year, with a net profit of $1,279,158 after setting aside $800,000 for bond redemption.

20 YEARS AGO

Thomas Redding Jr., test chief for the Nicasio Dairy Herd Improvement Group, announced that D. McIsaac had "high cow of the year" which meant it had produced within 10 months 18,037 pounds of milk and 831.8 pounds of butterfat.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Phony Gold Coinage Proves Full Weight

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON— Treasury and Secret Service agents are quietly investigating a heavy flow of "counterfeit" U.S. gold coins to this country and other world money markets.

This flourishing traffic, first secretly uncovered by a congressional committee several years ago, involves large quantities of one and 20 dollar US. gold pieces.

These coins, which are actually worth their gold weight, include many with mint dates putting them in the category of rare and valuable collectors' items.

Striking evidence of this has been uncovered by the discovery of numerous gold "counterfeits" in the stocks of coin dealers, U.S. and Swiss banks, and money markets in the Caribbean and the Middle East.

THESE COINS are so perpectly minted that in most instances they have to be examined and chemically analyzed by Treasury experts before the counterfeits are detected.

Intelligence authorities are certain that hundreds of thousands of these gold pieces are being minted in Russia and Red China. Communist agents sell the coins to obtain U.S. dollars for espionage and subversive operations.

Evidence obtained by government sources indicates these spurious gold pieces are flooding the U.S. through three main channels.

FOLLOWING THE GOLD— The most important entry point is New York, where Communist diplomats at the United Nations, their staffs and numerous couriers transport this gold in their diplomatic pouches and luggage past customs officials.

Another major channel is via Red-ruled Cuba and thence through various Caribbean countries to Gulf ports in the U.S., ending up in New York. Refugees and others coming from these countries are a big source of this illicit traffic.

A third route, through which most of the Red Chinese-minted gold dollars come, runs from Vancouver, in British Columbia, down the West Coast to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Sino-Soviet-minted U.S. gold pieces sold to numismatists as "rare coins" bring prices ranging from $10 to $30 for one dollars and from $50 to $700 for 20 dollars.

IN A NUMBER of definitely established cases, Communist diplomats have deposited gold coins in New York banks, subsequently drawing on these accounts in dollars.

The "counterfeit" gold coins are minutely exact reproductions of those minted by the government. The $1 piece is about the size of a dime, and the $20 coin the size of a half dollar.

The tell-tale flaw in the Sino-Soviet-minted coins is ironically their gold content. The "counterfeit" coins contain slightly more gold than the U.S. pieces.

Larkspur Talkathon Ends With Tentative Budget

Larkspur's talkathon came to an end at 11:15 p.m. yesterday when the city council voted 4-0 to adopt a 1963-64 tentative budget that carries a 14-cent tax increase over last year.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon was absent, missing the historic event.

It appeared for several moments that it was going to be a 3-1 vote. Mayor Lesly A. Daveler's "aye" was slow in coming, but finally, after fellow councilmen had all voted and after a deep breath, Daveler said it. It was his first "aye" of the evening.

The much discussed budget was introduced by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper in May. It totaled $460,719. It carried a $63,000 deficit, and called for a 30-cent tax boost.

The budget adopted last night totaled $408,000 (including $59,800 for the sanitary budget), carried a deficit of $14,000, and projected a 14-cent tax boost.

The deficit is actually not a deficit since it will come out of approximately $20,000 in carryover from last year. This would normally go into unappropriated reserves on this year's budget.

The council will meet again at 8 p.m. Aug. 29 to set the city tax rate. Piper said it will probably be $2.08 per $100 of assessed valuation. Last year it was $1.94.

Much of last night's discussion centered on Piper's recommended $20,000 capital outlay in the library fund. Construction of a new library should begin in three years to improve library service and also to give more room in city hall for offices and the police department, Piper said.

Councilmen had earlier agreed to do away with the $20,000 entirely. Last night Piper bid for retention of $1,000 for planning.

"What's the point in planning a library when we don't even know where it will be?" asked Councilman Robert J. Smith. Other councilmen pressed Piper on this same question.

Finally Piper explained that there were "a couple of property owners" who might consider donating land to the city for a library site if they thought the council intended to go ahead with a project.

"I see this as an incentive," Piper said. Councilmen agreed and voted 3-1 (Daveler "no") to allocate $3,000 for library capital outlay. They still said, however, that planning should wait.

The move will raise the library tax to 11 cents.

Councilmen asked Piper to point out to the library board that it went over last year's budget for expenditures by $822.

Piper told the council that the sanitary district tax would stay the same, 67 cents for maintenance and operation and 15 cents for bond retirement.

Discussion of the $59,800 sanitary budget brought a flare-up when Mayor Daveler asked for a fuller accounting of maintenance man time. Piper had figured sanitation maintenance took the time of 1.8 men — workers dividing time between sewers and streets.

Daveler said it was hard to know exactly what this meant since Piper had not shown what kind of salaries were involved in the 1.8 figure. If it involved several different men at different salaries, it should show that.

"You're going to make an accountant of the city manager," Councilman James R. Lienkaemper said. "We're going to be on this cotton-picking budget for ever. I reject the whole idea. I move we go on to something else."

Daveler, however, continued to explain what he wanted. Finally Lienkaemper said:

"Mr. Chairman, I move that we drop the whole subject."

"Since it hasn't been seconded, I guess we don't have to," Develer said calmly. But he dropped the subject just the same.

Working with the state's new street aid program from an added one-cent gas tax, the council adopted a $31,000 program for primary streets and a $12,800 program for secondary streets.

Included is $18,000 for improvement of Magnolia Avenue from Bon Air Road to a point north of Dartmouth Drive, $4,500 for fill to raise the ground level for the proposed Doherty Drive extension, and $8,400 for culverts and resurfacing on Bon Air Road.

Under the new state program, the city puts up $1 for every $3 from the state.

After adopting the budget, councilmen hastened through several other matters on the agenda that did not get covered at the regular meeting Wednesday. It adopted Piper's financial report, approved notice of a tax-delinquent lot, and accepted Piper's monthly report.

Other less pressing matters were put off until later, and council adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

Private Blue Eye For Sunday Ban

OCEAN CITY, N.J. (AP) — A private detective agency has been hired to supplement this resort's police in enforcing the Sunday closing law, Mayor B. Thomas Waldman announced Thursday.

"Our local detectives are just too well known by the amusement men and storekeepers to seek out violators," Waldman said.

This community has enforced Sunday closing laws since its founding from a Methodist camp meeting in 1879.

San Anselmo Police Arrest Check Suspect

Marguerite Bono, 45, of 18 Sais Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested by San Anselmo police yesterday for issuing checks without having a checking account.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said she passed three checks, totaling $21.65, to San Anselmo merchants. She was booked at the county jail and held on $525 bail.

Jail, Fines For Drunken Drivers

A Santa Rosa man was sentenced to jail and a Novato man was fined by Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Jack Wharton, 26, was given 20 days in jail and a fine of $276 or an extra 25 days for driving while intoxicated June 2 on Chileno Valley Road. Wharton pleaded guilty and admitted four prior convictions.

Joseph A. York, 36, of 98 Grande Vista, Novato, was fined a total of $433.50 for drunken driving and battery. He was arrested by off-duty California Highway Patrolman John Allison on Highway 101 near Novato Sept. 14, 1962, after a three-mile chase, and then hit Allison. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Grand Jury Turns Down 2 Requests

The Marin County Grand Jury last night voted to turn down two requests for investigation, at least for the present.

One case dealt with transfers of students between high school districts. L. J. Meszaros of Inverness asked the jury to look into the claim that Tomales Joint Union High School District does not provide adequate courses for some students.

Foreman Edwin A. Wells said the education committee felt the matter was not something a grand jury should meddle in. He said the district board is elected and the grand jury would become a third party in a dispute between a citizen and elected officials if an investigation were started.

The other matter concerned lawsuits involving James P. Stuart which have engendered some stormy sessions in Marin Municipal Court. Stuart asked an investigation of the county's courts, saying he was "intimidated, bullied, harassed, confused and threatened" by judges and attorneys.

Wells said he read Stuart's letter to the jury, and members decided there was no cause for investigation at present.

Tomales High Board Adopts Final Budget

A final budget of $246,809 was adopted Wednesday night by the Tomales Joint High School District board after there was no protest at a public hearing.

This budget will be financed by the same $1.33 tax rate the district levied last fiscal year. This is the maximum allowable in the district at present, said Supt. Anthony Matulich.

Requests for interdistrict attendance agreements for four students to attend Analy High School in Sebastopol were returned to the parents as unacceptable to the board. They were from Andrew Phillips, Dennis Gleason, Richard Franeschi, and Diana Piazza.

The board voted to offer first year Latin next year if enough students request it. Alstair Urquhart was hired to teach English, French — and Latin, if requested.

James Carroll, Marin County Board of Education member, was commended by the Tomales board for "his work in studying the entire matter of interdistrict attendance." This action came after a report on the recent action of the Marin County Board of Education denying appeals of Tomales students who had requested transfers to the Tamalpais High School District.

California Interscholastic Federation insurance will be carried on the students for the coming year, the board voted.

Historic Hayward School Closes

HAYWARD (AP) — The little redwood schoolhouse will close forever next year after 103 years of classes.

"We tried so hard to keep our little school open," said Mrs. Kathleen Bray, clerk of the Redwood Elementary School board. "I think we are one of two single-room schools with eight separate grades and one teacher left in the state."

Redwood was founded in 1860 to serve the heavily wooded area east of here but because of the lack of residential land the school was unable to draw the required minimum of six students.

The National Council of Churches put up $265 to free young Hallinan on bail.

Use Ashtray; Patrol Ordered To Crackdown

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Motorists were warned today to stop throwing matches, cigarettes, or other burning material out of cars, especially during the current months of high fire danger.

Acting Gov. Glenn M. Anderson said the California Highway Patrol has been instructed to enforce "vigorously" the state law that prohibits throwing burning material on a roadway.

Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

Costumes worthy of a William Shakespeare play are not easily come by. And when you must "outfit" not one, but two, of the Bard's great works, then you really have a problem. In tomorrow's I-J supplement, Marin Magazine editor Don Keown tells you how the Marin Shakespeare Festival solved that problem. It is also the story of one of the world's great collections of theatrical costumes.

Upon land where Mi-Wuk Indians once trod is now taking place one of this county's most ambitious and imaginative developments — the 100-million-dollar San Marin planned community. Sunset International Petroleum Corp. is building the community on what has been the Freitas C Ranch and, before that, part of the great Novato and Nicasio ranchos. You can read about them in tomorrow's magazine.

For several years now the Marin County Airport at Novato has gone without any major improvements. But things are stirring there now. A new access road is under construction. And other improvement projects are scheduled for the near future. Theron Newell, the I-J's North Marin reporter, tells you about those plans for a better county airport in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

Gallinas Poplars Are Authorized

Improvements for a proposed playground in the Gallinas Village Community Services District were authorized last night by the district board of directors.

Planting of about 30 poplar trees and addition of topsoil to the district's property at Rosal and Adrian ways was approved as a first step toward a playground at the site. It is the first project in the district's plan to eventually use all funds toward recreation.

About $1,000 of the district's $6,000 recreation budget will be used for materials, and director Herbert Belben volunteered to do the work during his vacation month. The district hopes later to purchase playground equipment.

Alys Durenberger, secretary, said signatures representing about 35 homes in the area near John McPhail School must be collected to complete the petitions requesting annexation of sanitary facilities by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

Earlier circulation of petitions failed to include the area, and signatures fell short of the required 75 per cent of assessed valuation in the district to complete annexation without an election.

Park Attendant's Leg Broken As Jeep Flips

Devil's Gulch in Samuel P. Taylor State Park lived up to its name about 1:40 p.m. yesterday for John V. Williams, 43, park attendant of Lagunitas, who suffered a broken left leg when a jeep pinned him to the ground about 20 minutes.

Williams had just driven through a fire trail gate and parked the jeep with its engine running to get out and lock the gate again, reported California Highway Patrolman P. W. Cunningham.

As Williams left the jeep his foot tripped the emergency brake release, causing the vehicle to roll forward. He ran after it. The jeep turned over onto Williams' leg.

Albert Mendoza, 22, of San Francisco and James Root, summer camp counselors, saw his plight and went for help.

After the vehicle was righted by Mendoza, Root and others, Dr. John A. C. Leland put emergency splints on Williams' leg made of slats taken from a nearby fence.

Williams was taken to Marin General Hospital, where his condition today was reported as fair.

Pump Station Odor Bothers Residents

Residents living near the San Pedro pump station yesterday complained to the San Rafael Sanitation District board about odor coming from the plant.

The board assured the residents, according to City Engineer Dominic Selmi, that something would be done.

Selmi said the problem has been reduced to where there is only a slight odor about twice a week. An ozone generator, purchased by the district, is helping to keep the odor to a minimum, he said.

The board awarded Cyclone Fence Co. contract for construction of a chain link fence around the treatment plant at $2,383.

Piombo Brothers was awarded a contract for relocation of a sewer line around Auburn Street at $3,266.80. The bid was not awarded to the low bidder, Sterling Co., because of failure to submit a bid bond. Difference in the bids was $193.80.

ROME (AP)—The little old men with the sharp-pointed canes still manage to make a living in Rome spearing cigarette butts from streets and sidewalks. Bell told California Highway Patrolman A. S. Olson he was heading north when he ran off the road on a curve. The car tore through 20 feet of barbed wire fence and landed on its right side.

Bell was taken to Hillcrest Hospital, Petaluma, where he was found "apparently not injured" but was still confined today for observation, his condition termed "satisfactory."

Tax Conviction Holds For Alameda Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals refused yesterday to review its decision upholding the income tax evasion conviction of Alameda County Superior Court Judge Marvin Sherwin.

Sherwin, 61, who currently is suspended from the bench, was sentenced to a one-year prison term last year for evading payment of $16,394 in income taxes.

San Rafael's City Budget At $2.9 Million

San Rafael's city budget for the new fiscal year stands at $2,956,796, including unbudgeted appropriations made by the city council last week, City Clerk-Finance Officer W. L. Morgan reported today.

When the council adopted the budget, last-minute changes had not been incorporated in the total.

Revenue for the new year is estimated to total $2,529,243. This, said Morgan, includes the real and personal property tax figures as totaled prior to any changes made by the board of supervisors during its equalization hearings, and estimated utilities and sales taxes.

The $427,553 difference between income and expenditures will come out of reserves. The city, said Morgan, began fiscal 1964 on July 1 with a healthy balance on hand of $1,372,401, including restricted funds for parking district, assessment districts, etc. This is expected to be cut to $944,000 by year's end.

The projected year-end balance in general funds is $237,000.

Expenditures for building a new city hall are not included in the budget, as money for that is expected to come from sale of other city properties, not included in the revenue estimate.

Man Held To Answer For Burglary

Lloyd A. Pacini was held to answer Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of burglary and car theft. He was accused of burglary of $93,000 worth of jewelry and furs from the home of Cameron Hickingbotham Jr., 1418 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, on New Year's Day, 1962.

Judge David R. Baty bound Pacini over to the Superior Court after an all-day preliminary hearing.

The case was broken last October when San Francisco police smashed a burglary and fence ring and found part of the Hickingbotham loot.

Pacini was one of several persons convicted in San Francisco of receiving stolen goods. He was brought to Marin County from the State Medical Facility at Vacaville for trial on a complaint filed in October after he had been questioned by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

MARINWOOD POOL SEEMS FAVORED

Community Services Board Selects Sept. 17 As Date For Bond Election

Little opposition to Marinwood's proposed $100,000 bond issue for a community swimming pool was expressed last night at a public hearing, and some opponents to previous bond issues in the community said they now favor a pool.

At conclusion of the 45-minute hearing in Mary E. Silveira School, the Marinwood Community Services District board voted unanimously to adopt resolutions setting Sept. 17 for a bond election, with polling places at the Silveira and Lucas Valley schools.

Sole dissenter among the 16 persons who attended the hearing was Mrs. David W. Manchester of 509 Miller Creek Road. She objected to any increased taxes on a home "that is already going up in value."

"I'm rather glad that our homes are worth more," commented chairman Buel M. Snyder of the community services district board. "The increased assessed valuation for our area is partly due to our work here in the district toward making Marinwood a better community."

Guy E. Baty, Marinwood Assn. president, said, "any criticism should be directed to us, for we asked the CSD for this pool election." He said a poll of 520 homeowners in the area showed 87 per cent favoring a swimming pool and willing to pay for it.

"Now that we have a community center," Baty said, "it seems that the chance of getting a pool is much better."

Two previous attempts to pass bond issues for a swimming pool fell a few votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

Ernest D. Stewart of 429 Blackstone Drive, who fought the $356,000 bond issue which was approved last year for the district's community center and firehouse, said, "having recreation facilities without a swimming pool is like having a bathroom without a bath tub." He said the extra $100,000 for a swimming pool at the community center park on Miller Creek and Lucas Valley roads "won't make much difference in our taxes."

CSD board member William D. McGregor, also once opposed to the center, said he now favored a swimming pool and voted in favor of putting the matter to a popular vote once more.

"I'd rather see our kids in a swimming pool than out setting fires in the hills," said Eettie J. Leibovitz, summer recreation director for the services district.

Bonds for construction of the pool, if approved, would be paid back over 25 years.

Residents in the district paid 56 cents per $100 assessed valuation last year toward payment on the community center bonds, in addition to the $1 district operating tax rate. Payment for the new fiscal year on the community center bonds is expected to be around 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

County Cannot Mail Welfare Bill Info

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—County funds cannot be spent by a board of supervisors for mailing information and recommendations on pending welfare legislation to voters, according to a ruling by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

The board may, however, give information on specific issues when asked by a citizen or the press, Mosk said. The opinion was requested by Calvin E. Baldwin, county counsel of Tulare County.

Ross Council Adopts $1.27 Tax Rate

Ross town councilmen last night adopted a $90,131 budget for fiscal 1963-64 and a $1.27 tax rate which is 12 cents above last year's rate.

Eight cents of the increase will go into a newly established employee retirement fund. Four cents, added to the park and recreation fund tax will be used to finance tree trimming and establish a fund of $1,895 for improvement of Ross Common, according to Mrs. John G. Lewis, town clerk.

The budget also includes pay raises for the city's 10 employes. All increases are under 5 per cent.

Last year's budget was $80,665, almost $10,000 less than the one adopted last night.

In other business last night town councilmen heard an appeal from Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, a trustee of the Marin Junior College District, for Ross to participate in flood control improvements on Corte Madera Creek as outlined by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Mrs. Deedy is to gather more information and meet again with town councilmen to discuss how the college and the town can tie the program together.

Driver's Left Arm Broken In Smashup

James Ronald Sloan, 31, salesman of 1125 Via Escondido, Ignacio, won't drive any more with his left arm out the window, California Highway Patrolmen predicted today.

The arm was broken about 11:15 a.m. yesterday when Sloan's station wagon sideswiped another car on White's Hill, reported Officer J. E. Halligan, who cited Sloan on three counts: driving left of the center line, speeding, and having an expired driver's license.

Halligan reported Sloan's car, eastbound on a curve of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard about a half mile west of the Circle V Ranch, hit a westbound car driven by Max M. Chadwick, 25, of Elm Avenue, Woodacre.

Brown Asks Federal Aid For Juveniles

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office has released a plea by the governor for Congress to extend the Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Offenses Control Act.

The plea, in a letter to Sen. Joseph Clark (D-Pa.) said California has received 1.17 million dollars in grants under the act for training, research and demonstration in state delinquency prevention programs.

High Ride At Fair

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the attractions scheduled for the 1964-65 New York World's Fair is an aerial cable ride extending for 2,000 feet over the main axis of the Fair. Sponsored by the Von Roll Iron Works of Switzerland, it will take visitors 112 feet into the air for a memorable view of the entire exposition.

Little Interest On Site For Mill Valley Library

Little interest has been reported from Citizens to the Mill Valley Library Board of Trustees in choice of sites for the proposed new library, Mrs. John P. Farnham, president, said today.

Following an invitation for citizens to send their views to the library, the library staff received a few comments, with the majority favoring the Old Mill Park site over the Silva site at East Blithedale Avenue opposite the tennis courts. No letter was received. The board, which discussed proposed sites last night, will still welcome suggestions, Mrs. Farnham said.

Library trustees decided to have a book booth, for the first time, at the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival. They also approved hiring Mrs. Julia J. Cooke on a permanent basis as a library staff member. Mrs. Cooke, who lives at 342 Lovell Avenue, has been working at the library part-time.

Belvedere Man Bruised When Forced Off Road

Robert Lloyd Patterson, 53, of 59 East View Avenue, Tiburon, manager of California News Features, Belvedere, suffered bruises on his left arm when his car went off a curve of an Alto area frontage road about 1:35 a.m. today.

California Highway Patrolman Charles Heart reported Patterson said he was eastbound, east of the Alto interchange and about 75 feet south of Tiburon Boulevard, when a car illegally entering from Tiburon Boulevard forced him off the road.

Patterson was treated at Marin General Hospital.

City To Have 4th Fire Station

The San Rafael Fire Commission last night decided to recommend to the city council purchase of a site for the fourth fire station near the sewer treatment plant and close to Bellam Boulevard.

Money for the purchase is included in the city budget. Cost has been estimated at $19,000 for purchase and fill.

The commission also approved a mutual aid agreement with San Quentin Prison.

A letter from Attorney William J. Murphy, requesting a response on his request for higher pay for firemen, was read. Murphy will be notified that the matter rests with the city council.

Giant-Phillie Series Will Be Zero Hour For Both Baseball Teams

CONNOLLY

The Giants are in Philadelphia. It's game time. The bells are ringing—the tune varies—depending on what innings you're listening to, and what the score happens to be.

If the S.F. Giants are leading the Phils, Rus Hodges' voice will tell you. It'll be sharp, brisk, quick, rapid, staccato-like.

If the Giants are behind Russ and Lon, or their voices, seemingly zig and zag. They just can't conceal their feelings. I understand. I can sympathize. So if your ears are pinned to the radio tonight, prepare for a high and low, hot and cold, fast and slow zing to the voices of Hodges and Simmons.

THE PHIL-GIANT series of four games happens to be the zero hour for both clubs. S.F. is 5½ games behind the Dodgers and the Phils trail by 9½.

It might seem silly to say it but nobody in their right mind would think the Phils are strong enough to belt the Giants. But it has happened before, and it might happen again. Nobody can explain why. Giant pitching, when they get it, man for man, rates an edge on the Phils; Phil hitting, at the moment, may be more consistent but not nearly as powerful; Giant defense, at its worst, deserves a standoff, so what is it that the Phils do that the Giants can't do?

If everyone listening to the Phil-Giants series will discount the part management plays in the success or failure of this series, it'd be easy to predict a winner.

BUT WHEN Gene Mauch, the bright young Phillie pilot and Alvin Dark, Giant skipper, collide, they go to extremes to prove the importance of the part management plays in the success or failure of the team.

As close friends, Mauch and Dark are good sports. If Mauch has to lose he'd rather see the Giants win and vice versa.

Mauch may know and realize that Dark is on the "spot" for a not too good season but he is so close to the top himself, he couldn't if he wanted, help out his friend and fool Horace Stoneham another year.

AS A matter of fact, baseball friendship doesn't rate in the final analysis. It's the breaks of the game. And if you ask me a manager has very little to do with them as in creating them.

When Bill Rigney was managing the Giants, everybody thought Horace Stoneham called the signals from Candlestick Park. But no one would be silly enough to blame Stoneham for some of the boob mistakes of judgment Dark has made this year. So that would indicate that the Giant owner pulled out as remote control manager, and tossed it into the lap of "Antsy" Alvin.

It really seems funny to me to see smart baseball writers side step the big issues where Dark is involved. They blame it on everybody but the headman. And the headman in this case isn't Horace Stoneham.

EVERYBODY took a pot shot at Stoneham when Rigney was in charge. They felt he ought to play Willie McCovey on first and Orlando Cepeda in the outfield and vice versa.

But today with the lineups pretty well established, not one of them will point out or try to second guess Dark on his mis-handling of pitching and his utter disregard for scoring a run whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Aside from that point of view, let's wangle, jangle or dangle the Phils tonight and hope and pray the Dodgers do a tail spin.

Giants, With Help, Open In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, armed with new help in the pinch-hitting and pitching departments, open a four-game series against rugged Philadelphia tonight.

Billy O'Dell, 11-6, goes for the Giants with mound help from Frank Linzy and batting aid from Norm Larker available if needed. Jackie Culp, 11-9, opposes O'Dell.

Larker and Linzy came to the Giants in separate deals yesterday that reflect San Francisco's scrambling effort to catch the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers. The Giants presently stand second, 5½ games behind the leaders and a half-length in front of St. Louis.

Larker, 32, was purchased from Milwaukee for slightly more than the waiver price of $20,000 and Linzy was summoned from Springfield, Mass., of the Class AA Eastern League.

To make room for them, Matty Alou and Gaylord Perry were optioned to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

Larker was batting only .177 for the Braves but that's 41 points higher than Alou's average, compiled mostly as a pinch-hitter.

In 1960 Larker batted .323 for Los Angeles but slumped to .270 in 1961 and went to Houston in the expansion draft. He slipped seven more points and was dealt to the Braves last winter.

He came only after an apparent Matty Alou-for-Duke Snider trade with the New York Mets fell through earlier this week.

He'd completed 16 of 20 starts, won 14 of 19 decisions and had a sparkling 1.54 earned run average. In 169 innings Linzy struck out 105 batters and walked 44.

He could be pressed into a starting role by manager Alvin Dark, who must scramble for a starter every time he gets beyond O'Dell, Juan Marichal and Jack Sanford.

Perry won only one of four decisions and failed to get past the sixth inning in any of his three starts.

In the Phillies the Giants are meeting the team that was the National League's hottest in July. Three victories in four home outings against the Giants helped Philadelphia build its impressive mark for the month.

BUTTS DENIES HE GAVE BRYANT VITAL SECRETS

ATLANTA (UPI) — Former Georgia football coach Wallace Butts denied emphatically today that he gave vital football secrets to opposing coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

Butts' testimony came during the fifth day of the trial of his $10 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

In an article last March the Post said Butts conspired with Bryant to rig the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game won by Alabama 35-0.

1ST WITNESS

Butts was the first witness called in the fifth day of the trial which has drawn capacity crowds in the Federal District Court where it is being heard by a 12-man jury.

Butts' attorney, William Schroder asked Butts: "Have you or not in any conversation with coach Bryant over the telephone or otherwise—passed on information about Georgia plays and defenses?

Butts: "No."

Schroder: "Is there any doubt in your mind about that?"

Butts: "Absolutely none."

Schroder, at another point asked Butts that if on Saturday Sept. 13, 1962, he gave game information to Bryant relating to plays and defenses of Georgia.

Butts replied: "Emphatically no."

CALM VOICE

Bryant, his voice booming through the courtroom, denied yesterday that he and Butts had rigged the 1962 game between their teams, as the magazine alleged in its March 23 article.

Schroder asked Butts, a member of football's Hall of Fame, if he remembered calling Bryant.

Butts replied he recalled telephoning Bryant the latter part of July 1962 about interpretation of football defensive rules.

Butts said this conversation took place soon after he returned from a meeting in Buffalo, N.Y., of the American Football Coaches Assn., of which he was a past president.

He said Bryant was one of the leading defensive exponents of football in the nation and that he felt "I would be doing the game of football a great service" by talking over defensive rules with Bryant.

Butts also testified he talked with Bryant several times on the telephone and "at least three times in person" after the July conversation.

Two Homers By Ron Santo Gives Cubs Win Over L.A.

By Associated Press

For Comeback of the Year honors, how about Ron Santo, the Cub clubber who's replaced Ernie Banks as the Chicagoans' entry in the National League power trust?

Santo, handed the cleanup spot in the batting order despite a .227 batting average in 1962, paid another dividend on the gamble yesterday when he hit a pair of homers that powered the Cubs to a 5-4, 10-inning victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Santo hit his first homer in the fifth inning to tie the score, then won it in the 10th with a shot over the left field bleachers that ended the Cubs' four-game losing skid and trimmed the Dodgers edge over second-place San Francisco to 5½ games.

The 23-year-old right-handed swinger is hitting .295, is tied for fourth place in homers with 20 and is third in runs batted in with 76. Last year he hit 17 homers and drove in 83 runs.

The slumping Banks, meanwhile was released from a hospital and pronounced fit except for a minor infection in his blood stream. The two-time home-run king, hitting a woeful .226, entered the hospital after complaining of fatigue.

St. Louis dropped to third place, six games back, after losing to the New York Mets 3-2 on a home run by former teammate Duke Carmel. Cincinnati got home runs from Frank Robinson and Tommy Harper in a 6-3 decision over Philadelphia and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend blanked Milwaukee 1-0 on six hits. San Francisco and Houston were not scheduled.

The American League leading New York Yankees whipped Washington 3-1, the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 5-3, Cleveland shut out Baltimore 2-0, Minnesota blanked the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and Detroit edged Boston 6-5 in 10 innings.

Too Many Bees

CHICAGO (AP) — Maybe the reason the Cubs have been so pesky this baseball season is because they've got a lot of B's. There's Brock, Burke, Burton, Boros, Banks, Bertell, Buhl, Brewer and Baker—nine in all, enough to put a team on the field.

The Well is Deep and There's Gall Aplenty

Coincidental with the bi-weekly appearance of these journalistic (?) efforts has come a certain amount of notoriety. Many of my readers expressed opinions on a particular column, mostly to my wife instead of to me, directly. Being a kind soul by nature, she recounts these remarks to me, but is careful to omit the sympathetic clucking and the disbelieving shake of the heads.

The few who have commented on these paragraphs to me invariably express surprise over the hop-scotch subject matter, and the compulsion that drives an old automobile man to a field so foreign to his basic occupation. To these queries, and to all those who have bothered to wonder, too, I can say, quickly, I have found the great and happy compromise. I can indulge my precocious whims of self expression without censorship, and still pursue a career offering gratifying financial rewards and huge portions of self-satisfaction with measurable progress.

The economic success I am now enjoying is particularly appreciated, since the road was not nearly as smooth not too many years ago. Traveling a bumpy road is disturbing at best, but it was maddeningly frustrating to a guy like me, almost consumed with ambition and a conviction success and personal integrity were not mutually exclusive. This is why I experience as much enjoyment from a word of praise from Doug Cowan, the man whose remarkable patience retains his faith in me, or from a satisfied customer, as I do from the monetary rewards of my job.

I can recall with squirming clarity, the monumental inferiority complex that rendered me speechless during my early years in high school. To escape this prison of introversion, I labored on the written word. I couldn't bring out the words vocally past a badly twisted tongue, so I put them down on paper. Additionly, though I spoke little, I thought a lot, and this is the stuff dreams are made of.

Eventually, my compositions, primarily devoted to topics (definitely non-political) dangerously controversial in those days, gained the attention of a shock-proof English instructor. This great man made me his pet project, and through remarkable tenacity and patience, gradually convinced me I was constructed of parts similar to the rest of the students, and, therefore, it was ridiculous to lurk in the shadow of inferiority.

With his guidance, I even managed to make a few talks before the classes. Daniel Webster's spellbinding mastery was never in jeopardy, but just getting up there in front of so many unspoken "I dare you's" was real progress. The rest, as so many thousands before have said, is history.

This is why I can keep writing these paragraphs indefinitely, or as long as they find some measure of public interest, and not insignificantly, as long as the budget of Ames Ford can stand it. My efforts to insure Doug's faith by maintaining a profitable—and respected dealership will not diminish through my dual role, either.

Dallas Cowboys Drop Rams 17-14 In Exhibition Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The "revitalized" Los Angeles Rams, who won only one National Football League game in 1962, bowed to the Dallas Cowboys last night, 17-14.

A crowd of 70,675 turned out in Memorial Coliseum to see Coach Harland Svare's club battle a team that is rated as a serious threat for the Eastern Division title.

The Rams made a battle of it. They took a 7-0 lead in the first period on defensive captain Ed Meador's pass interception and 56-yard run for a touchdown. After the Cowboys had tied the score, Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel fired a 40-yard pass to Pervis Atkins in the end zone.

But there were lulls in the Ram defense, which has been expected to give an improved Dallas attack a severe test. Amos Bullocks went through the center of the line in the third period in a surprise play and ran untouched 26 yards to a touchdown.

Cowboy quarterback Don Meredith threw a pass at Pettis Norman, who made a leaping catch at the goal line. It was a 20-yard gain.

The winning points came on Sam Baker's 29-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Section Of Mendocino Has High Opening Weekend Of Deer Kill

STEVENS

A release from the F&G states that the Leggett and Laytonville areas of Mendocino produced the highest opening weekend buck kill in five years with normal hunting pressure. No specifics are given so we can't judge the precentage of kills to hunters. A casual survey of figures would seem to indicate, however, that the overall kill averaged 25 per cent to 33 per cent in most of the areas north of the Golden Gate.

That may not seem to be particularly high, but compared to past records it is quite good. One group of nine hunters working on a private ranch out of Capella took three very fine specimens including two three-pointers and one of four points.

ALL ANIMALS taken are said to have been in prime condition, fat and fresh.

From where I sit, prospects for a productive weekend of salmon and bass looms large and plain. I've been listening to my Halicrafter for the past hour and have heard the skippers after salmon in the Mussel Rock region report a continuation of the good fishing of the past few days. Frora Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland I learned that the good ship, Sea Horse, boated 10 limits to 21 pounds in that area on Tuesday; the Sea Bee staggered under 12 dandy limits to 28 pounds.

FROM THE same sourch I verified that the bass trolling boat, Troller, took seven limits of bass to 13 pounds in the Raccoon Strait on Tuesday.

Both tides seem to be productive for live baiters, jig and spoon towing and even shore casting. Alcatraz, waters to the east of Treasure Island, Raccoon Strait, Southampton Shoals, and under the Bay bridge as well as the Mission Rock region all paid off.

ONE ITEM of news that appeals to me is the apparent flurry of bait fishing in the Lower Suisun Bay. Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor reported the boat, Dowrelio #5, boated five limits of bass to 10 pounds on the afternoon tide. Johnny Sivera, with two friends, made a scouting trip to the same area on Tuesday and took easy limits for each rod to 18 pounds.

If the winds behave, it is safe to bet this weekend will be a good one for striper striving, not only in the San Francisco Bay region, but upstream in the San Pablo Bay and the Suisun Bay spots. Here's hoping I'm right. Chow!

ART CUSHING
50-mile swim

Art Cushing Wins Tiburon Swim Contest

Art Cushing has won the summer-long swimming contest at the Tiburon Peninsula Club by completing 50 miles of swimming Sunday.

Cushing, who lives at 2280 Paradise Drive, says that he has never been on a swimming team in his life, but he finished far ahead of the other members attempting to complete their 50 miles this summer. Splashing along in second place is Peggy Coombs with 33¼ miles completed, while John Stone has swum 26.

The contest is part of the Red Cross "Swim and Stay Fit" program. It was started by former club swimming director Tony Montanari, and has attracted the interest of many members of the club and their children.

LITTLE LEAGUE COACHES WILL CLASH IN M.V.

The managers and coaches of the Mill Valley Little Leagues will attempt manfully, if not successfully, to practice tomorrow afternoon what they have been preaching all summer. The occasion is the game between the managers and coaches of the National League and those of the American League.

Vern Saterlie, who masterminded the Indians to the city championship, will expertly manipulate the forces of the AL, while Tricky Dick Powers, regular season pilot of the Yankees, will guide with a safecracker's touch the fortunes of the NL. Game time is 2 p.m. at Optimists' Park.

MARIN'S MISS CONCOURS D'ELEGANCE

Louise Saylor, "Miss Concours d'Elegance" and a Marin substitute teacher, will preside over the fourth annual Town and Country Concours d'Elegance, benefiting the City of Hope, Aug. 25 at the Town and Country Village, Palo Alto. She's pictured at the wheel of a Jaguar XKE roadster, one of many sports and luxury cars from throughout the Bay area which will be on display at the Concours. Louise is substitute teaching at San Rafael, Novato, Terra Linda and Tamalpais District high schools.

State Bowl Tourney Starts

Phil Wallace of Corte Madera is one of 64 bowlers competing tonight, tomorrow and Sunday in the third annual California State Masters tournament in Stockton.

Phil, who recently bowled a 300 game at Greenbrae Lanes where he is employed as an instructor, is matched against Lou Pressley of Redding in the second flight. His match starts at 7:45 at the Pacific Avenue Bowl in Stockton.

The Cal-State Masters is a double elimination tournament in which the losers enter a losers' bracket. Wallace and 60 of the other bowlers had to qualify in six-game series competition. The other three men in the tournament are defending champion Ray Seddon of Glendale, 1961 champ Ron Winger of Van Nuys and Chuck Sisk of Sacramento, the 1963 State Scratch All-Events titlist.

Bobo Olson Signs 5-Year Pact With Real Estate Man

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former world middleweight king Carl (Bobo) Olson has signed a five-year contract with a San Mateo real estate broker, according to the California Athletic Commission.

The commission's San Francisco representative, Bob Turley, said yesterday that Gene Rosetti would receive one-third of Olson's ring earnings between now and 1968.

He said that trainer Curley Perry would remain with the 35-year-old ex-champion.

Turley described Rosetti as an old friend of Olson's who had recently helped the fighter obtain property on the San Francisco peninsula.

'Dead' Baseball In '63

NEW YORK (AP)—Tests conducted for Sports Illustrated show that the 1963 major league baseball is about five per cent less lively than the ball used in 1961 when Roger Maris of the New York Yankees hit 61 home runs.

Pop Warner Football Teams Will Start Drills Tomorrow

The Oakland Raiders have already played an exhibition game and daily reports emanate from the 49er training camp telling of ferocious preparation for a heroic comeback from last year's dismal season, but with Little League having just completed its season and the Washington Senators not yet eliminated from the American League pennant race, it's still hard for some folks to realize that the football season is here.

For nearly 400 Marin boys of ages 11-13, though, the realization will come hard and fast tomorrow when they begin practice with Marin's six Pop Warner teams. The teams are sponsored by the Marin Boys Club, whose football program will receive the proceeds from the 10th annual football festival on Sept. 7. That evening, all six teams will play in a tripleheader at the College of Marin field in Kentfield.

DEFENDING CHAMPS

The defending champion Terra Linda Junior Trojans will practice at Terra Linda High School under the tutelage of coach Dave Bowman. They have 15 players returning from last year, including fullback Rod Powell, tackle Dan Machado and halfback Jim Finnegan.

Fullmer Goes After Title

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — Middleweight champion Dick Tiger, the pride of Nigeria, meets American Gene Fullmer in a title fight for the third time tomorrow but in a setting far different from San Francisco and Las Vegas.

This is Nigeria's first world title fight and the government is anxious to make it a prestige promotion. Officials have brought in Jack Solomons, an experienced British promoter, to stage the 15-rounder at Liberty Stadium, and have subsidized the fight to the tune of $280,000 so that the fighters can be paid in the style which they have become accustomed in the United States.

They have not neglected African custom and superstition. It's been raining tigers and dogs here lately, heavy, drenching torrential downpours that last three hours at a clip. This has made quite a mess of the road from Lagos, the Nigerian capital some 89 miles from Ibadan.

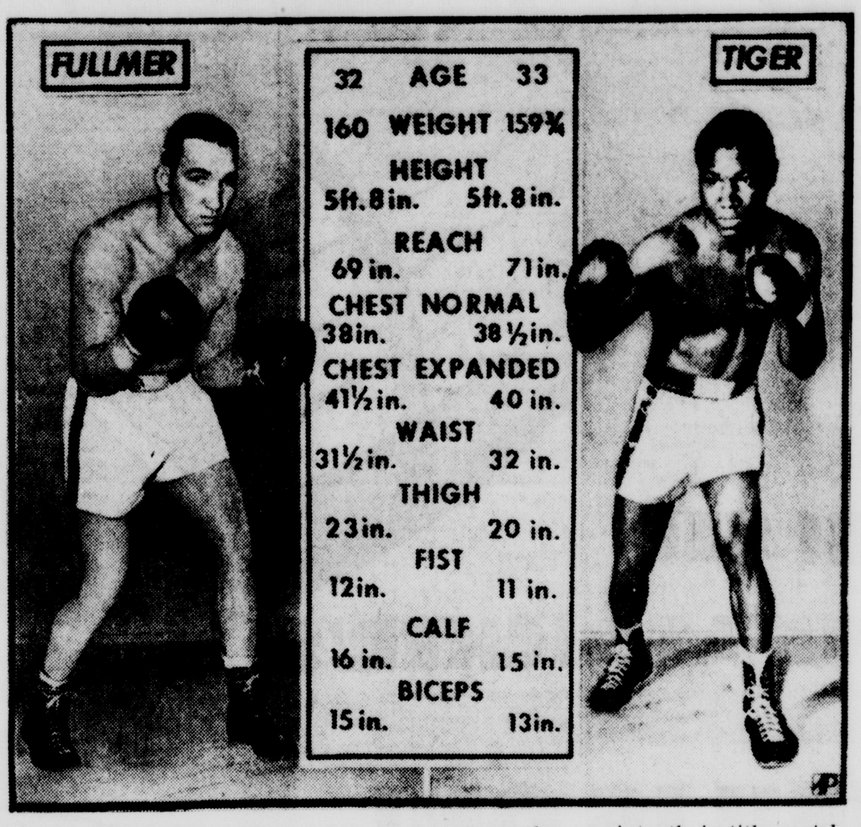

Since a lot of the paying customers are expected from Lagos, Chief Joseph Modupe Johnson, the cabinet minister for labor and sports, would like to make sure they can make the trip. So he's hired a pair of rain doctors to put the whammy on the rain clouds.

If the rain does let up, the chief expects about 45,000 to pay their way in for the 7:30 p.m. (11:30 a.m. DST) bout. That many customers would cover the guarantees of $100,000 for Tiger, the native son, and $50,000 for Fullmer, the challenger and ex-champion from West Jordan, Utah.

Fullmer has been pleasantly surprised by the warm reception he has received from the Nigerians.

"They've been real nice," he said. "I think some of them will be rooting for me."

Tiger, now 33, won the title from Fullmer by thumping the American, now 32, at San Francisco in 15 rounds, Oct. 23, 1962. In a return bout at Las Vegas, Nev., last Feb. 23, the two huskies fought to a draw.

49ers Leave For Opener

The San Francisco 49ers only had four holdouts as they departed today for their game tomorrow night at Portland, Ore., against the Minnesota Vikings.

Abe Woodson, a good defensive halfback and a great artist at running back kicks, yesterday signed his 1963 contract. This left four holdouts unsigned—linemen Bruce Bosley, Ted Connolly, and John Mellekas, and linebacker Bill Cooper.

The 49ers breezed through a light no-contact workout yesterday, again concertrating on specialty phases of the game.

Mrs. John Cann Wins Tourney

Mrs. John Cann carded a fine 77-9-68 yesterday to pace the class A golfers in Women's Day action at the Meadow Club. She was trailed by Mrs. Ed Vest (88-17-71) and Mrs. Harrison Leppo (93-19-74).

Mrs. R. J. Fuite captured class B honors with her round of 97-22-75. This beat Mrs. John McGee's 99-22-77 and Mrs. Norman Ackley's 105-25-80.

Mrs. G. L. Donoghue breezed to the top in class C competition by carding 98-28-70. Mrs. Paul McArdle shot 102-28-74, while Mrs. Carl Boegershausen and Mrs. Floyd tied for third with 104-28-76.

Owens Hopes To Join Colts

DENVER (UPI)—R. C. Owens, who was injured seriously in an automobile accident last month, expects to join the Baltimore Colts for their National Football League season opener Sept. 15 against the New York Giants.

The 6-3, 190-pound flanker back, who helped make the so-called Alley-Oop or rainbow pass a potent weapon in professional football, said yesterday he probably would be released from Presbyterian Hospital this week. Although he will remain in Denver for several weeks under doctor's orders, Owens hopes to make the lineup for the opener.

Owens was driving through eastern Colorado on July 17, enroute from his Belmont, Calif., home to join the Colts for pre-season workouts, when his automobile ran over a culvert and overturned. Owens said a tornado picked up the car and hurled it off the highway.

S.F. Yacht Club Hosts Regatta

By ALFRED MATSON

The San Francisco Yacht Club's YRA regatta tomorrow and Sunday should attract every qualified boat on the register, in both class and division categories. And the reasons are quite simple. In the first place, this is the initial race of the fall half of the season, after a five-week summer interlude; secondly, it is a must for all those sailors with championship ambitions as season's points are involved and, on the social side, the S.F. club's Saturday night regatta dinner dances are always events to remember.

SPOTLIGHT

Cruising Club and the Divisions will occupy the spotlight on the morrow and the one design classes will spread their wings on Sunday. The battle of the handicaps will be heralded by a blast of the starter's gun at 11:40 a.m. The big fore and afters of Cruising Club "A" will head out on a course of 25.4 miles, from Knox buoy, a long beat out to channel marker No. 1, then an off-wind caper back to Berkeley Shoal buoy and a short up-wind tussle to the finish line, back to Knox. Cruising Club "B", "C" "D" and Divisions 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15 and 17 will follow in that order in 5 minute intervals.

On Sunday, class day, it will be the Rhodes 33 first to the fore at 11:10 a.m., followed by the many other one designers until 12:40 p.m. when the Pacific Clippers will heed the final starting signal.

Then, on the following Sunday, there will be an event of keen interest for all the sailing buffs from Vancouver to San Diego; the San Francisco Perpetual Trophy race. This classic, and annual, tussle is emblematic of coast supremacy. Last year a highly knowledgeable skipper and crew, plus a great boat, came up here from San Diego in the role of challengers. They defeated the defending San Francisco crew, by a matter of seconds.

Aug. 18 the casts are nearly the same, yet the roles are reversed. The local lads are the invaders of the home waters of the proud San Diegoans.

Baseball Is Fast Becoming A Japanese National Sport

By DON SAWATO

TOKYO (AP)—There's a story about a young Japanese boy who went to the United States and was taken to a baseball park.

"Why," he exclaimed, "they've copied the game from the Japanese."

His observation was an accurate indication of how baseball has become a part of Japanese life in the 90 years since it was introduced to this country —by Americans. And today American ball players are playing important roles in the sport in this baseball happy land.

25 YANKS

This season there are 25, including five Japanese - Americans. They generally draw salaries several times above what they would get in the states.

The Americans who play ball here come to a country that is wildly enthusiastic about the game, to put it mildly.

Kids and grown-ups swarm vacant lots on the four islands of Japan practically the year round with makeshift diamonds, gloves and bats.

On the professional level, the two six-team leagues—Central and Pacific—rake in more money than any other entertainment. A crowd of 40,000 packing a stadium on a normal weekday is no rarity.

Last year, the two leagues drew a total of 9,600,286. Millions more followed the game via television and radio.

The recent 1963 Japan All-Star game saw four Americans in action. Kent Hadley, former New York Yankee, was the only foreigner to be named to the All-Star team by popular polls. The other three were picked by managers of both leagues on the basis of their performances. They were Jim Marshall, one-time Pittsburgh Pirates first sacker, and Jack Bloomfield and Carl Petersen, both former Pacific Coast Leaguers.

FORMER GIANT

Among the newcomers this season are Bob Nieman, formerly of the San Francisco Giants, and William Klaus, 11-year veteran of the Philadelphia Phillies. Both are teammates of Marshall on the Chunichi Dragons of Nagoya.

Other foreign players include first baseman Jim McNamus, former University of Southern California player, And pitcher Joe Stanka, formerly of the Chicago White Sox.

Despite criticism from some Japanese fans and players, club owners still are trying to get more foreign players to Japan. They claim it is more profitable to contract Americans with known records than sign high school kids with unknown futures.

Triple Play And A Grand Slam

A triple play and a grand slam home run highlighted the games played last night in the San Rafael Recreation Department's softball league.

Rocky Caravelli slugged the big home run to pace the Sea Point Native Sons to an 11-2 rout of the Marin Municipal Water District. Bill Henderson was the winning pitcher in the class C contest.

Lou Robello hurled Dempsey-Tegler to an 11-3 class B win over Villa Lucchesi in which the winners turned in a triple play.

Birthday Honors For Rose Verrall

Close to 200 persons threaded through and old Victorian mansion on the Tiburon Peninsula yesterday to wish a happy birthday to Rose Rodrigues da Fonta Verrall, who is 80 years old. Their hosts were the National Audubon Society and the Belvedere - Tiburon Landmark Society.

GREETING the guests were two women who have worked tirelessly for conservation of Marin's natural beauty and the preservation of historical treasures. They were Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, past president of the Marin Conservation League, and Mrs. Robert Bastian, president of the Landmark Society. Interestingly enough Mrs. Livermore had celebrated her own 80th birthday the previous day.

The guests admired the seven birthday cakes donated by Marin bakers; the picture of Rosie when she was 26 years of age now hanging in the mansion; the old mansion itself, originally the home of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Lyford; and the expanse of open water surrounding the nine-acre knoll.

BECAUSE of her contribution to conservation of wild life and the preservation of a historical landmark, Rosie, who is familiarly known as "The Goat Lady," was presented with the first honorary membership in the Landmark Society at her party.

Also as a birthday present a bench will be installed under the large black acacia where Rosie usually sits. She also received a guest book signed by those attending.

ROSIE lived on the Reed ranch as a young woman and inherited the nine acres from the estate of John Reed, Marin County pioneer. For many years she has been a familiar sight tending her small herd of goats.

When she saw the Tiburon peninsula developing so fast, she deeded her property to the Marin Conservation League but continued to live there. It was later deeded to the National Audubon society by the league.

No one knows for sure when the Lyford mansion was built on Strawberry Point nor by whom. For many years it was occupied by Hilarita Reed Lyford, daughter of John Reed and her husband, a civil war surgeon. In 1957 it was moved to the Verrall property. Restored by Mrs. Donald Dickey in memory of her ornithologist husband, the building is now headquarters of the Marin Audubon Society and called The Dickey House.

THE SURROUNDING tidelands were acquired by a group of dedicated citizens who form the Richardson Bay Foundation. A $55,000 bond issue by the city of Belvedere; $25,000 from the Marin County Board of Supervisors; another $25,000 from the Audubon Society; $100,000 from the State of California to buy the highway right-of-way and another $32,000 from private do-

LEOPARD BOYCOTT IS ASKED

NEW YORK (UPI) — American women have been asked to stop buying garments made of leopard skins in order to save the spotted animal from extinction.

The National Audubon Society issued the plea in hope of curbing the illegal slaughter of the fast-disappearing leopard in Africa.

Audubon president Carl W. Buchheister said that E. H. Risley of Nairobi, Kenya, executive officer of the East African Wildlife Society, told him: "The illegal killing of leopard has reached a new peak of intensity."

After 18 years of continuous activity in summer workshops the Art and Garden Unit (formerly Ross - Kentfield - Greenbrae Unit) of the Marin Junior Theatre is sponsoring for the first time a Teen Players Production group.

Directed by Marion Hayes Cain, a performance of "Distant Drums" by Dan Totheroh will be presented at the A. E. Kent School on Aug. 16 and 17 at 8:30 p.m.

"DISTANT DRUMS" was dramatized on a theme suggested by old family anecdotes told to Mr. Totheroh. It is a pioneer story of a covered wagon train going west. First presented on Broadway in 1932, it was adapted for motion pictures and was locally produced here in 1948 at the outdoor theater of the Art and Garden Center by the Ross Valley Players.

The cast of players and production staff includes students from every high school in Marin. Stage manager Bob Hamilton and light technician Frank Donnelly head the production staff. The play will be staged "in the round" with audience seated around the acting area.

MEMBERS OF the cast include Don Irey, Ken Macrae, Greg Norgaard, George Bunting, Duncan Williams, Bob Foster, Steve Irey, Bob Hamilton, Cathie Bush, Inga Freyer, Verna Easom, Janet Gray, Sue Walsh, Gail Sanders, Sue Howell, Cathy O'Brien, Donna Southerd, Tracy Cavit, Kadeane Harlan and Cassie Buller.

Mrs. William P. Walsh is chairman of the unit.

MARRIED TO BANK CLERK

Princess Faces Common Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE: As the youngest daughter of Emperor Hirohito, Princess Suga has long been the pet of the Japanese people. As wife of a commoner, though, she has run into problems. Here's a close-up portrait of a down-to-earth young lady who believes in breaking traditions—gently.

By DORIS KLEIN

TOKYO (AP)—"I don't care if she is Princess Suga," said the assistant manager of the Imperial Hotel. "We don't serve tea on the mezzanine."

Eighteen years ago that slight to the Emperor's daughter might have been grounds for execution.

PRINCESS SUGA

Instead, Princess Suga, a trim suburban matron in a bright orange dress, shrugged, smiled, went thirsty and talked about arranged marriages.

IF TIMES HAVE changed radically in post-war Japan, few symbolize it more than Japan's answer to Princess Margaret.

At 24, Suga, who like Margaret married a commoner, is a chatty young woman who describes herself as "no different than ay other housewife."

Japan's newspapers and magazines think otherwise. The youngest daughter of Emperor Hirohito and Empress Negaka is the dream girl of thousands of Japanese young men, the idol of thousands of Japanese young women and adorns as many magazine covers as Jacqueline Kennedy. She complains:

"About 50 per cent of what they print about me never happened."

What's the truth about her highness?

She likes a single strand of pearls and Hawaiian jazz. She hates to answer fan mail, isn't sure exactly what kind of work her husband does and wants to bring up her infant son by herself.

"YOU REALLY CAN'T compare my life with those of my older sisters," she says. "They were married more in the traditional manner and live differently."

Yet Suga has broken the bonds of tradition so gently that even Daddy approves. The shy, retiring Emperor ignored custom himself when he attended her wedding three years ago. It was against the Imperial rules because his children rank beneath him.

Eight days after her 21st birthday, Suga married Hisanaga Shimazu, a bespectacled $50-a-month bank clerk.

They moved into a little $11,000 Western-style cottage in the suburbs.

WITH MARRIAGE, Suga shucked the shelter of a platoon of servants. She learned to drive, to polish her own floors and to cook—"Western and Chinese dishes. Japanese dishes are too hard to prepare."

She even went to work for a while, as panelist on a Japanese record program.

Paradoxically, she's a partner in an arranged marriage, and she's all for it.

"If your mind is clouded by all those romantic notions before you marry," she explains, "you could easily make a mistake and select a person who is unsuitable."

Before World War II, young ladies when they married usually found a book stuck into their trousseau. The 200-year-old volume was called "Onna Daigaku," or "Greater Learning for Women."

IT SPELLED OUT Japan's estimate of a woman's place, unchanged from feudal times. She had Three Obediences, said the book, to her father before marriage, to her husband when married and to her son when widowed.

A man could divorce his wife for any one of seven reasons—including if she talked too much.

For royal kids is was sometimes tougher.

With 2,600 years of unbroken rule behind them the world's oldest royal family had some definite ideas on bringing up children.

One of them: children must live separately from their Imperial parents almost from birth.

"When I was a child, I lived in a separate apartment in the palace not far from my parents," Suga recalls. "But I was only permitted to see them by appointment.

"THEN, WHEN I went to kindergarten, I lived in a separate building altogether on the palace grounds, with my own staff."

Suga was next to the youngest of the six royal children.

"As I grew older, I would hear from my friends how they lived, how they stayed with their families. Then I realized that we lived differently from other people."

When the war ended, Suga was in kindergarten and changes were sweeping Japan.

Although the Emperor was retained, the peerage was abolished.

IN 1948, the civil code was amended to give women equal rights with men.

Suga went to high school. But while the other girls were free to play after school, palace guards were always waiting to take Suga home.

Although only one of her older sisters had attended a girls' junior college, Suga decided to go to Gakushuin University in Tokyo, which, she admits, she chose for its coeducational aspects.

Three years after entering Gakushuin, she was introduced to Shimazu. It was arranged by their families.

SHIMAZU WAS a descendant of an old feudal family and son of the late grand master of ceremonies of the Imperial Palace.

"We met several times and he passed the test with flying colors," says Suga.

"There were a few things he had to be like — nothing unusual but like height. He had to be at least a little taller than I.

"And I wanted him to be a white-collar man. Rather than an artist or something like that. Artists work at home. And I don't think that makes for a good marriage.

"We're very happy. Maybe I couldn't say those things if it had started out as a romantic attachment. Romance often clouds good judgment."

"There seems to be an endless stream of visitors," she told a newsman.

Curiosity - seekers would shinny up a lamppost to peer into their home until police put a stop to it.

As it does with most couples, the baby has cut down on the Shimazus' social life.

"We don't go to the movies as much as we used to. And I try to do all the household work and my own personal things before my husband comes home," she says.

There are still semi-official chores for the princess.

"We don't have quite as much time as some of our friends. There are certain places we must go. If we're invited to a flower display or an art exhibit, we must keep the appointment. If I were not a princess, perhaps I could say I was too tired to go."

Reception To Fete San Anselmo Couple Married In Buggy

On Sunday a reception will honor the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of San Anselmo.

Sixty years ago in Highland, Tex. on Aug. 12, George Rogers and Jinks McGough decided to get married. In those days farming people did not have much time between chores so they drove over to the house of the justice of the peace. He called his wife out in the yard to act as witness and the marriage vows were said while the young couple were still seated in the buggy.

AFTER EIGHT years spent in farming the Rogers family moved to Strawn, Tex. where he drove a team of horses for a drayage company. Then another move to Dalhart, Tex. and several years of manufacturing bits and spurs for the famous firm of Kelly Brothers. The final move to San Anselmo came in 1931. Until his retirement a few years ago, Mr. Rogers worked with his builder son-in-law in the development of the Oak Springs subdivision in San Anselmo.

Meanwhile Mrs. Rogers had been kept busy raising a family of five daughters (Flora) Mrs. Harrol Laster, (Wilma) Mrs. Ola A. Welsh, Mrs. Berniece Campbell, all of San Anselmo, (Aline) Mrs. Joseph H. Childs of Grass Valley and Mrs. Inez Gerdez of Texas. In addition there are two grandsons, five granddaughters and 10 great-grandchildren. All will be present along with friends and relatives to mark this anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laster.

MR. AND MRS. ROGERS agree that a large family and a busy daily life are very good ingredients for a long and happy marriage.

The bride wore a grey-beige brocade taffeta suit with white accessories, and her matron of honor, Mrs. Carl Mead of Novato, was attired in a pink sheath with white accessories. George Gosser served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony champagne and wedding cake were served. On returning from their wedding trip the couple will live in Corte Madera.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Planning Ahead Puts You In Hand In Bridge Game

When you were in the cradle, your parents probably asked you the old riddle: Why does a chicken cross the street?

Bridge players know another riddle: Why does a chicken avoid crossing the street?

Opening lead — ♠ 2

12 TRICKS

He had to plan to make 12 tricks by setting up dummy's queen of diamonds in addition to ruffing three clubs in dummy and eventually drawing trumps.

There's nothing difficult about any single play; South must simply have as much sense as a chicken.

The actual declarer didn't know which side of the street he wanted to be on.

MISTAKE

South made his mistake at the first trick when he allowed Dummy's eight of spades to hold. He took the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, ruffed a club in dummy, ruffed a second diamond, a second club, a third diamond, and a third club.

But now South was stuck in dummy. He couldn't cash the queen of diamonds because West would ruff.

The only other play was to cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart, but then he would never get back to dummy for the queen of diamonds.

CHICKEN

Any good chicken would overtake the first trick with the ten of spades. Then South ruffs a club, cashes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, ruffs a second club, a second diamond, a third club and a third diamond.

Now South has done all his work and he is in his own hand, exactly where he wants to be.

He can draw the last two trumps and lead a heart to dummy's ace so that he can cash the queen of diamonds.

WHY?
1. SEPARATE Family Room (lock up the kids)
2. Utility room IN the house (keeps wives out of the rain)
3. 3 BR, 2 bath wing (guests can't see your pajamas)
4. Only 20 were built (The builder started losing money so he quit)

These Rosewood owners moving East (the only good reason to sell one)

Terra Linda Boy Only 6, But Puzzles Over Chess

Likes Games, But He Swims Too

By ALTON S. BOCK

Frank Gower of 33 Serra Way, Terra Linda, spends several hours every day playing chess, and when he can't find a chess partner he puzzles over chess problems.

He is 6 years old.

Last week, at the Valley of the Moon chess tournament in Sonoma, he beat four chess players—all 10 and 11 years old and placed in the finals of the tournament's junior division, where he was finally beaten by a clever 14-year-old.

"I just couldn't stop him," complained Frank.

Frank is a son of Allen B. and Paula Gower and has a brother, Douglas, 12, and a sister, Diana, 8. Douglas taught him to play chess when Frank was 5, and for the past year and a half the game has been the chief interest in his young life, although now and again on warm summer days he takes time out for a swim in the backyard pool.

He plays chess with anybody who is willing, and Douglas said Frank now 'beats me about half the time . . . I'm learning a lot from him." Frank also frequently wins a game against his father, an advertising director for Ward-Griffith Co. in San Francisco. His other adult opponents include a next-door neighbor whom he usually stalemates.

"One of the prizes he got for placing in the finals was a set of chess problems," his mother said. "He enjoys reconstructing games and has learned the chess notation."

Frank was also given as a prize an autographed copy of a 1940 edition of "The Community of the Future," by Emanuel Lasker, former world's chtss champion.

The only trouble with that prize is that Frank can't read.

He is struggling to teach himself to read, though, and has painstakingly copied long passages from books and magazines. "He has invented a kind of alphabet, or code, of his own," Mrs. Gower said, "and he expects everybody else to write in it."

Frank is fond of anything that has a mathematical angle and has taught himself simple addition and subtraction.

His mother doubts whether he'll embark on a career of professional chess-playing, and Frank agrees.

"It'll get harder as I get older," he said.

He objects strenuously if he thinks anyone "gives away" a game to him. His chess playmates include 13-year-old Patrick Mahea, a friend of Douglas, and Frank said, "Sometimes Pat gives a game to me."

Frank will enter the first grade at Santa Margarita School in September.

His friends, however, include seventh and eighth graders who are members of the Vallecito School Chess Club.

What Frank would like most would be to find someone his own age with whom to play—chess, that is.

TOUGH COMPETITOR — Patrick Maher, 13 (back to camera), finds 6-year-old brother Frank very, very tough to beat at chess nowadays. Brother Douglas 12 (at rear) taught Frank the game 18 months ago, but now his little brother often beats him. Purely a spectator at such chessboard goings-on is the mother, Mrs. Allen B. Gower of Terra Linda. (Independent-Journal photo)

Signs To See For Streets

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—City officials here are making it easier for both local residents and visitors to locate streets they are unfamiliar with.

New street name signs 18 inches high and 40 to 60 inches long have been installed at test locations.

Coated with reflective material that glows in automobile headlights, the street name signs can be seen a block away at night.

Name Of Bandit Given Attention

STANTON, Mo. (UPI)—One of the guides at Meramec Caverns here is named Jesse James — no relation to the outlaw who used the five-story deep cave as a hideout in the 1870s.

"As many tourists are intrigued by his name as by the fact the outlaw used to hide out here," said Lester B. Dill.

Took Flag Home From Gettysburg

DENVER (AP)—Muriel Fleming has one of the American flags strung across the platform from which Abraham Lincoln gave his Gettysburg address in 1863.

Her great-grandfather, Alexander S. Fleming, was captain of the Gettysburg Home Guards during the Civil War and was master of ceremonies at the dedication of the battlefield cemetery where Lincoln spoke.

Is Unique U.S. Crop Not Included

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP)—The headline read "School Nurse and Custodian Sought." Interested readers were quick to learn the story was just a plea from the local school board for applications for those two positions.

Parents of three million children were either separated or divorced in 1960, Population Reference Bureau figures show.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Lopsided Meals Can Have Bad Affect On Skin Of Individual

VAN DELLEN

Can a starvation diet affect the skin? Yes, but the individual must eat poorly for years before changes are noted. Those most likely to be affected are men and women who eat lopsided or highly restricted menus to avoid obesity or because of gastro-intestinal distress.

Some become diagnostic problems and go from one physician to another. A laborer had been invalided for two years by a nutritional eczema. The true nature of his condition escaped detection because it resembled a fairly common dermatitis (pityriasis) and no one questioned his eating habits.

THE MAN was reluctant to discuss his meals but finally admitted he never drank milk and had avoided meat, vegetables, and fruit for many months. His menus consisted largely of potatoes and tea. Rapid improvement took place when he changed his eating habits and took large doses of vitamins and minerals. In addition, he gained weight and experienced a marked increase in strength and vigor.

Nutritional eczema usually is confined to the elbows, neck, and lower back. The skin in these areas become thicker as well as dry and scaly. In some instances it looks like goose flesh in that it is studded with tiny projections.

BUT MOST nutritional deficiencies are detected in the mouth and lips. The tongue may be smooth and bright red and the gums swollen; canker sores often co-exist. Fissures or cracks may develop in the corners of the mouth.

Individual vitamin deficiencies produce specific skin changes but this is unusual because it is difficult to develop a deficiency of one vitamin and not others. Too little A causes dryness and shrinking of the skin and acne-like lesions. A deficiency of B1 leads to pellagra; a pigmented dermatitis develops over the hands and feet and the lips become dry, cracked, and scaly. Scurvy (bleeding) follows lack of C.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HAND WASHING

R. W. writes: A physician once told my mother that washing the hands with soap and water would kill any kind of germ there is. Could this be true?

REPLY

Cleansing with soap and water eliminates most of the micro-organisms. But let's give more credit to the mechanical removal of dirt and germs during the process of washing rather than to the antiseptic action of the soap.

DIGITALIS INTOXICATION

A. B. S. writes: If a person has to take digitalis all the time, is there any danger this drug will slow down the pulse too much?

REPLY

Yes. Should this occur, your physician will reduce the dosage or stop the drug for a few days. A slow pulse associated with nausea is a sign of digitalis intoxication.

GLAND INFECTION

Mrs. E. S. writes: What are the symptoms of a viral infection in the glands? How long does it last?

REPLY

A number of viral diseases involve the glands. If you refer to infectious mononucleosis, the infection usually lasts two to four weeks. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on mononucleosis.

URINARY TRACT INFECTION

D. C. writes: Does cystitis affect the entire urinary tract?

REPLY

No, just the bladder. But the infection may spread to the kidneys or to the small tube leading to the outside (urethral).

Today's Health Hint—Don't allow children under two on the sidewalk unattended.

Marin Masons Set Annual Dinner Dance

Welcoming Masons and their guests will be four committeemen representing the four lodges in the county. They are: Harris Jackson of Hamilton Air Force Base; Wesley Honeyman, Marin Lodge; Richard Mills, Mill Valley, and James Smith, Fairfax.

Tough Control Of Explosives Is Urged Here

A county ordinance which would stiffen control of the use of explosives was proposed Wednesday at a meeting of fire chiefs.

Deputy County Counsel Richard Godino told the chiefs, at a meeting in the Civic Center with County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, that a model ordinance would be drawn up to require any contractor using explosives to carry insurance.

Fire chiefs, under state law, have authority to issue permits to persons using explosives in their areas, but the law does not specify permit requirements.

The Marin County Grand Jury last year asked for investigation of tighter control over blasting after explosives being used for a septic tank installation in Novato threw rocks into the air and shattered windows.

Under the proposed ordinance, uniform regulations would be set up throughout the county, including a requirement that insurance cover any damage or injury resulting from the use of explosives.

Fire chiefs also expressed concern over better control for transportation of explosives, but Godino said this is covered by state law although enforcement has apparently been limited.

Godino will present the proposed county law for discussion and review by local fire district boards and city councils.

Chess is believed to have originated in India at least 13 centuries ago. It was called chaturanga, or "four arms," after the components of a contemporary army — elephants, horses, chariots and infantry.

11 Marin Boy Scouts To Attend Arrow Conference

Eleven Marin Boy Scouts will attend a two-week international conference of the Order of the Arrow at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Ill., beginning Tuesday.

The 11 are all members of the Indian camping society of the Scout movement. While at the university, they will participate in athletic events, attend discussion sessions and swap souvenirs. The group will also visit a number of national parks and monuments, including Yellowstone, Grand Teton and Mt. Rushmore.

The Scouts include Rupert Berwin, Dixon Hart and Edgar Ralph Fischer of Ross; David Carson, Bruce Stock and Paul Mills of Kentfield; Steve Miller, John Phillips and Scott McKinley of San Anselmo, and Rick Sloman and Richard Adatto of San Rafael.

Hamilton Base Dental Director Is Named

Col. Walter J. Reuter was named director of base dental services this week at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Colonel Reuter is a graduate of University of Minnesota. Earlier in his military career, he was the chief of dental services of the Eighth Air Force, responsible for the dental care of 200,000 men at 65 air bases. Before coming to Hamilton, he was deputy assistant surgeon general for dental services at headquarters, U.S. Air Force.

MARIN FILM FARE

Story Of Normandy Invasion At Hub

By LES DARD

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Hollywood almost staged World War II all over again to bring us "The Longest Day," a monumental re-enactment of the invasion of Normandy on June 6, 1944.

The memorable film is now settling down for a stay in San Anselmo.

Its scope is enormous. The picture examines the magnificent military operation from four points of view—the high commands of the American, English, French and German forces.

Its faithful reporting in detail makes the film documentary in character, and yet not one inch of film is taken from actual D-day photographs. Darryl Zanuck and his boys at 20th Century did it all by themselves.

There are no less than 43 featured names — like Robert Mitchum, John Wayne, Henry Fonda, Peter Lawford, Richard Burton, Kurt Jurgens, etc., etc. But none of these stars has more than a bit part—and all do well.

NOVATO THEATER

"Spartacus," the spectacular with a heart, opens Sunday. Those of you who cringe at the word "spectacular" are advised to have a second look this time. "Spartacus" is tremendous.

It has many big names, a cast of thousands, clanging swords and a staggering $12 million price tag. But it also has a fine story, starring Kirk Douglas as the Tracian slave who led a revolt of slaves against the ancient Roman legions. A true story and an exciting one.

Also starred are Jean Simmons, Sir Laurence Olivier, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov and many, many others.

MOTOR MOVIES

Arriving Sunday is a good family comedy, "Courtship of Eddie's Father," starring Glenn Ford, Shirley Jones, Dina Merrill, Robert Sherwood and a seven-year-old newcomer named Ronnie Howard, who plays Eddie.

Eddie's and his father's lives have been shattered by the sudden death of his mother. After a while the boy realizes their luxurious apartment needs more than a motherly housekeeper. He sets out to find daddy a wife.

Three eligibles come under his consideration—all beautiful, of course. He plays Cupid, with an assist from the grown-ups.

Production is the best, featuring sumptuous sets and beautiful clothes.

And with all those pretty girls—how could it miss?

LARK THEATER

Surely one of the most compelling movies ever produced —and one of the most revolting—"Mondo Cane" remains here for a fourth week.

Italian journalist Gualtiero Jacopetti roamed the Western world and recorded shocking, sickening and freakish scenes. He set them into 29 fast-paced, expertly-joined episodes and gave them a fine musical score.

Says Mr. J. of the results: "If my picture is bitter and cruel, it is only because it is a portrait of life—which is bitter and cruel."

But don't let him fool you. He's worked in some moments of delilghtful humor that help to balance the picture, too.

RAFAEL THEATER

Romance, comedy and action combine in "Donovan's Reef," coming Sunday. It's directed by John Ford using his favorite formula: John Wayne.

The latter plays Donovan: the Reef is his saloon on a French protectorate island in the South Pacific, where he and two other American soldiers stayed after the war.

One buddy, a doctor beloved by the Polynesians, has been widowed twice, once by his New England wife, the second time when his native princess dies after bearing him three children.

Complications set in when the doc's Bostonian daughter arrives. Donovan does his best to prevent her from discovering that the half-caste children are her brothers and sister.

Lee Marvin excels as Wayne's brawling sidekick and Dorothy Lamour plays a good-hearted saloon singer.

101 DRIVE-IN

The musical delight "Bye Bye Birdie" is now showing.

As in the super-successful stage production, it contains an abundance of laughter and charm, spiced with fine tunes like "A Lot of Livin' to Do," "One Special Boy," and "One Last Kiss."

Jessie Pearson, a handsome newcomer, plays Presley-like pop singer Conrad Birdie. His promoters bring him to Sweet Apple, Ohio, to enact a farewell kiss with a teen-age fan—played by Ann Margret.

Dick Van Dyke, Janet Leigh and Ed Sullivan are part of a large cast of good-looking youngsters.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"The Chapman Report" is a Kinsey-inspired Hollywood study of the sex lives of four women.

Shelley Winters plays a housewife with a lover; Claire Bloom turns in a most impressive performance as an alcoholic dipsomaniac; Jane Fonda is a frigid widow; Glynis Johns a wife whose aesthetic husband makes her long for the male man.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. has the male lead.

Co-featured is "Gigot," in which Jackie Gleason portrays a mute janitor whose life is in the streets of Paris. Gigot has a heart of gold, but he's not very bright. As a result, he's made fun of wherever he goes.

FAIRFAX THEATER

In its second week here, "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm" continues to captivate young and old.

Three Grimm tales are enacted: "The Dancing Princess," "The Cobbler and the Elves" and "The Singing Bone."

Other big names include Buddy Hackett, Claire Bloom, Barbara Eden, Yvette Mimieux, Russ Tamblyn, Jim Backus and Terry-Thomas.

THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN — John Wayne and Lee Marvin play two former war buddies who can never resist the opportunity to clobber each other in John Ford's "Donovan's Reef," opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater.

Development Unit Hits Separation

The Marin County Development Assn. is opposed to the separation of Alameda, Contra Costa and Solano counties from the San Francisco-Oakland Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area.

Separation of the three counties is being studied by the Interdepartmental Committee on Metropolitan Areas of the Bureau of the Budget. Statistical information on the area is furnished by the bureau to interested organizations.

Rex T. Silvernale, association president, said the three counties are "economically independent" with the rest of the Bay Area.

Appointed By Elks

Lewis H. DeCastle, Sonoma County public defender, has been appointed Elks Lodge district deputy grand exalted ruler for the California Northwest District. The district includes Marin, as well as the six other north coast counties.

Jose, Amparo Iturbi To Present Recital

Brother and sister Jose and Amparo Iturbi will present a piano recital, sponsored by the Marin Music Chest, Aug. 25 at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Miss Iturbi came to the United States in 1937, making her debut in Detroit. She has played with leading symphony orchestras across the country as well as giving recitals as a soloist and with her brother.

Shakespeare Festival Planned At Stanford

PALO ALTO (AP) — Stanford University said yesterday it will celebrate the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's birth next summer with an eight-week Shakespearean Festival.

Three West Coast drama companies and five academic departments of the university will participate.

The Oregon Shakespeare Festival Company from Ashland, the National Shakespeare Festival Company from San Diego and the San Francisco Actor's Workshop will present seven Shakespearean plays and three Elizabethan dramas.

Performances will be in Stanford's Frost Memorial Amphitheater, "converted into an open air replica of the Globe Theater in London as it was in Shakespeare's time," said Prof. Virgil K. Whitaker, festival director.

"We are trying to emphasize the West's major cultural contributions by presenting these first-rate theatrical organizations and an interlocking academic program," said Whitaker.
